PROSPECTS FOR SPECIAL SESSION ON ROADS DIM

Gov. Hyde, Despite Vivid Picture of the Emergency, Undecided on Action to Save Highway Program

MATTER URGED BY HEAD OF COMMISSION

Chairman Garry Presents Results of Private Poll of Legislature Indicating Favorable Attitude.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 27.—Prospects for a special session of the Legislature to save the highway program, dim enough when it first broke, today became hardly discernible. Gov. Hyde had not decided yet, he told the Post-Dispatch, but a weather forecast would diagnose his mental state "unsettled, with little hope for clearing skies."

Hope that Gov. Hyde might rise to the emergency pictured to him by the State Highway Commission was held on all sides yesterday. For Theodore Garry of Kansas City, chairman of the State Highway Commission, spokesman, friend and confidant of the Governor, had come here to confer with him on the question of an extraordinary session.

Garry presents conditions. Garry and his associates on the commission had told Gov. Hyde that they must have an additional road revenue of $2,000,000 a year speedily available or their program would drop from its present $15,000,000 a year peak to practically nothing by the middle of next year.

Automobile clubs, chambers of commerce, individuals and newspapers throughout the State had pleaded with the Governor to convene the Legislature, and the needs of the State. The Missouri Club of Missouri had found that a majority of the legislators were willing to support an increase in motor vehicle license fees and a gasoline tax to provide the revenue. A few of the legislators were willing only to "sign with reservations."

But Garry came armed with the results of a private poll of the legislators. "It's all one way," said he, "even so-and-so (naming a Democratic Representative who usually is an irreconcilable) says that, while he would prefer something else, he will go all the way with us rather than let the program drop."

Rumors from the Conference. In company with Chief Engineer B. H. Piepmeyer of the Highway Department, he hastened to the executive mansion, where the Governor waited. He passed the afternoon and evening with the executive, a few of the Governor's intimates having been invited for dinner. Brexides of information which came from the deliberations indicated that the Garry enthusiasm was being hammered. It was whispered that Hyde had yielded to the suggestion of his advisers who fear they would be rejected for confirmation by the State Senate, and was seeking a way to refuse to convene the Legislature.

It was reported that the highway commission should change front, say there was no need for a special session, and thus nullify the Governor's call of the note. Though this information is from a reliable source, no individual would agree to sponsor it publicly.

The story of the conference appeared to be plain, however, in the transition in Garry which had occurred over night. His dash out of the mansion was going back to Kansas City at noon, dispirited and disheartened. His will to drive the highway system on to speedy completion had been shattered. There would be no further statement to the public on the situation from the commission, so far as he was concerned, he said. "I don't know of anything else we can say," he concluded.

Trade Still Undecided. The Governor, today, as yesterday and the day before and last week and the week before that, didn't know. He has discovered that whereas he thought motor vehicle license fees are collectible Jan. 1, in fact the Secretary of Finance begins their collection in February, which enables a further delay in his decision.

He wants to give the road-builders expressed by the legislators, check their replies in detail against the published accounts and then go over the whole matter again with the Highway Commission," was what all he would say.

ILLINOIS CELEBRATES OPENING OF CHICAGO-ST. LOUIS ROAD

10,000 Persons Attend Pageant and Barbecue at Lincoln, on "Illini Boulevard."

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 27.—Illinois today celebrated the opening of the "Illini Boulevard," the paved road from Chicago to St. Louis, with a monster transportation pageant and barbecue at Lincoln, attended by 10,000 persons. The section of the road from Springfield to St. Louis has been in use for a year. Opening of today's section from Springfield to Lincoln, 210 miles of hard road at an average cost of about $7,000 a mile. He pleaded for passage of the $100,000,000 road bond issue which would complete Illinois' great system of roads. Frank Sheets, State Highway Superintendent, said the department planned to add another thousand miles of road in 1924.

Several tons of beef and 10,000 quarts of coffee were prepared for the visitors. Gov. Small, in opening the celebration, said his administration had completed 2100 miles of hard road at an average cost of about $7,000 a mile. He pleaded for passage of the $100,000,000 road bond issue which would complete Illinois' great system of roads. Frank Sheets, State Highway Superintendent, said the department planned to add another thousand miles of road in 1924.

$1,000,000 THEFT INDICTMENT

Chicago Dental Chemist and Seven Others Accused.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Dr. Spencer Brown, dental chemist, who with seven others, was indicted in connection with the Werner Bros. Storage vault robbery, Oct. 14, when $1,000,000 in bonds and jewels was stolen, today was arrested by Federal agents, charged with possessing altered Government securities to the value of $200,000. The indictment charging Brown and Frank Miller with conspiracy to murder Graham McGill, a broker, and Brown and seven others with receiving stolen property, were returned in court today. McGill claimed he was kidnapped and threatened with death in connection with the case involving some of the stolen securities.

Poker Game in Bank Vault

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 27.—Police men squared up a mangled body in the vault of the Minneapolis Trust Co., where the janitor had said yeggmen were at work. Four men connected with the company, a subsidiary of the First National Bank, were arrested. They were playing poker in the vault, surrounded by a large part of the financial resources of the Twin Cities. The four were fined $100 and costs each today. The bank discharged them.

HOLDUP MAN, SENT UP FOR LIFE, FREED BY HYDE

Governor Commutes Sentence of His Chauffeur, Convicted of Murder After Payroll Robbery.

NOT CONFINED SINCE HYDE TOOK OFFICE

'Dutch' Fromme, Described as 'Good Prisoner,' to Be Given Job in Garage by Brockman.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 27.—Charles (Dutch) Fromme, murder convict de luxe, was released from his sentence today by Gov. Hyde after serving eight years and two months of a life sentence on conviction of first degree murder for the brutal killing of an unresisting cashier in a payroll robbery in St. Louis in August, 1914.

Fromme, according to the evidence in the trial, was the instigator of the robbery in which three others participated, and directed the operations of the others. He fled after the robbery and was captured in Denver.

Consensus of opinion in the capital is that Fromme was freed because he participated in the robbery, whom he has served as chauffeur, without restriction as a convict, for more than two years.

Killing Brutal Affair

The robbery was one of daring and was one of the earlier of the long list of payroll robberies which have taken place in St. Louis. Fred H. Soller, the murdered man, was cashier of the St. Louis Refrigerating Co. and had been married only two weeks at the time of his death. He was on his way from a downtown bank to the refrigerating plant at Lewis and O'Fallon streets and had reached Second and O'Fallon streets when he was attacked by three men, one of whom shot him through the head.

Drove Governor's Auto

Since Gov. Hyde has been in office Fromme has enjoyed unusual privileges for a convict. Up to that time the Governor had employed a chauffeur at $85 a month, and Hyde in 1917 followed that precedent, but within a few months discharged his chauffeur and obtained Fromme from the State prison to serve in that capacity without cost.

Fromme's prison clothes were removed and he was dressed as any civilian. A room was fixed for him on the second floor of the garage at the Governor's mansion and Fromme slept there without a guard. Later, better quarters were arranged for him in the basement of the mansion.

Fromme frequently was seen on the streets of Jefferson City alone and went about much as he pleased. He drove the Governor's small daughter, Caroline, to and from a public school, more than a mile from the mansion, and at times drove the Governor on long cross-State trips.

At Rearing River in 1921. In the summer of 1921 Fromme was chauffeur for the Governor and his family on a trip to Rearing River, a summer resort in Barry County in the Ozarks. There Fromme taught the Governor's daughter to swim, and once in the large swimming pool saved from drowning a young woman who had become frightened when beyond her depth and was sinking. This young woman's father, W. T. Campbell, a Kansas City attorney, and others who witnessed this deed afterwards recommended a parole for Fromme.

On occasions the Governor had Fromme drive him 30 miles or more across the Ozark hills to

ALBERT GIVES UP ATTEMPT TO FORM GERMAN CABINET

Fails to Get Reichstag Support, His Activities in U. S. Being Criticized by Partisan Organs.

EFFORT TO FORM FIVE-PARTY BLOC

Ebert's Plans Do Not Provide for Socialist Representation—Disagreement Over Policies.

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, Nov. 27.—Dr. Heinrich F. Albert, who at President Ebert's request has been endeavoring to form a Ministry, abandoned the effort today because of his inability to find sufficient Reichstag support for a Cabinet under his Chancellorship.

President Ebert thereupon began negotiating with the leaders of the bourgeois parties for the formation of a five-party bloc, which would not include the Socialists.

Up to this afternoon, none of the parties had proposed a candidate for the Chancellorship.

An alternative suggestion which apparently was relegated to the rear for the time being, in favor of the five-party attempt, was a bourgeois cabinet composed of representatives of the German nationalist, centrist, and German people's parties. Such a cabinet would have to reckon with the opposition of the Socialists and the communists and at most with the neutrality of the Democrats, while the center party made its collaboration subject to two conditions, that the Government be along constitutional lines and that the Treaty of Versailles be regarded as binding.

Dr. Jarres Was Candidate. Lack of agreement among the parties on these conditions seemed to be the sticking point.

A candidate for the post of Chancellor in such a bourgeois cabinet was Dr. Jarres, minister of the interior in the Stresemann cabinet.

The five parties which it is proposed to unite in a bloc are the Nationalist, the People's, the Clerical, the Bavarian People's and the Democrats.

Partisan organs said that Dr. Albert's membership in Dr. Cuno's non-partisan cabinet was a distinct liability and that his selection as an unfortunate in view of his pre-war activities in the United States.

Prose Comment on Ruhr Deal. "Blind picking" for Germany is about the way the German press appraises the Franco-German industrial accord concluded at Dueseldorf, although the prospects it affords of curbing unemployment in the Ruhr section is looked upon as one of the immediate benefits.

The treaty's political significance is reflected in Germany's ability to force the application of coal deliveries to her reparations account for which former Chancellor Stresemann is given credit. By virtue of the accord, the German Government will be able to bring about a material curtailment of its unemployment dole.

"Alongside the treaty of Versailles we now have the treaty of Dueseldorf, which was also effected under pressure of our misfortune," says Der Deutsche, which represents the Christian trade unions. It believes Germany has definitely relinquished her rights to unobstructed control of her important economic area, and that "German coal must do vassal service for French steel."

That this treaty marks the first steps in the direction of a Franco-German rapprochement is the opinion expressed by Hugo Stinnes' Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, which hopes that the treaty will receive an impartial interpretation from the internal authorities.

Lehmer is believed to have made a quarter of a million dollars in real estate dealings, but lived in dire poverty. For many years he had been close friends with Miss Wurmthmann's grandparents, with whom he came to this country more than 50 years ago. These arrangements have been made under the same conditions as those already entered into by the committee with other industrial groups.

GERMAN PEOPLE TIRED OF REPUBLIC. By ARNO DOSCH-FLEURONT, Berlin Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World. Copyright 1923, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—The Reichstag is as good as dead. The Parliament elected under strong Republican influence for four years in June 1920, is almost certain to be dissolved within the next few days.

Apparently the plan is to present a dummy functional cabinet to the Reichstag and if the Reichstag does not like it the Reichstag will be sent home and a new election ordered.

Dosses of excuses are given to justify dissolution of Reichstag, but the truth is that Republican sentiment which elected it is gone. The people are eager for a strong hand. Gen. Von Seeckt, commander of the Reichswehr, will do for the present—There is no hurry about a return to monarchy.

NEW ENTENTE CRISIS ARISES OVER FRENCH AGREEMENT IN RUHR

man payments shall be divided by the allied and associated Governments in proportions which have been subsequently agreed upon in regard to Belgium and American occupation costs. It is expected that France will construe a British claim for a share of Ruhr results as admission of the occupation's legality, but this will be denied here.

It was hinted to me last night that as England believes a moratorium for Germany is necessary, there is nothing to prevent her from using reparations as she sees fit.

I can only understand this to mean the British might hand their share of the Ruhr payments back to Germany.

The most serious aspect of the Dueseldorf pact in British eyes is the apparent recognition by it of Rhineland separation from Germany. It is held here that France has turned to economic separation and has bought off the big German industrialists after attempts to corrupt the patriotism of the population had failed.

The British Government, I learn, is making strongly worded protests to France concerning separatism which Premier Baldwin declares France was neither encouraging nor interested in.

FRANCE TO LAY RUHR AGREEMENT BEFORE COMMISSION

By HUGH O'CONNOR, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World. Copyright, 1923, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The French Government has not completed its plans to lay the Dueseldorf agreement before the reparations commission for approval, as soon as the British member, Sir John Bradbury, returns from London and will not oppose having the Commission accept from France.

What he considers the spoils of an illegal operation.

If, however, he persists in his opposition to having the Ruhr reparations account and opposed paying Franco-Belgian expenses in producing these results, the French have planned to cite a list of articles from the Versailles treaty which they may be plausibly stretched to cover the issue.

This, they hope, will compel Sir John to suspend his opposition until the new British Government is elected. The new Government may give him further instructions. Then while he is waiting for them, the French intend to submit the matter directly to England as well as to Italy.

In this connection the semi-official Temps reflects an entirely new attitude. In columns where once England was bitterly denounced for attempting to regulate peace by economic means, instead of political considerations, the Temps says it is the economic order of things which it is essential to re-establish.

WORK ON NEW CITY ZONING BILL IS DEFERRED

Board of Public Service to Confer With City Plan Commission Before Further Action.

The Board of Public Service this afternoon voted to defer further action on zoning legislation until next Monday, when the board will confer with the City Plan Commission. Until a new ordinance is passed by the Board of Aldermen, the present zoning ordinance, which permits for construction of kinds forbidden under the zoning ordinance, recently declared invalid by the State Supreme Court, is expected to continue.

The board's decision deferred the plan made earlier, which was that an ordinance should be prepared today and introduced into the Board of Aldermen late this afternoon. It had been further planned that a public hearing should be held tomorrow night, and that the measure should be passed Friday.

McKelvey's Recommendations. Director McKelvey of the Department of Public Safety appeared before the Board and recommended several amendments, saying that, while he believed in zoning, he knew from experience in enforcing the law, that zoning was not the answer to the former measure.

He said there should be more uniformity as to streets, and that dividing lines of zones should be in alleys, so that both sides of a street should be under the same regulations.

He said that, pending enactment of a new ordinance, the board could use its power, under laws still in force, to keep quarries, filling stations, dry cleaning shops and other establishments which might cause objection, out of residential neighbors.

81 Permits in a Day. A rush yesterday to obtain building permits for the day to the Board of Public Service resulted in 81 permits for the day to the Board of Public Service.

The Board of Public Service today held without a break the examination of 3,000 applications for building permits, on charges of murder and robbery. The brothers before entering the courtroom had said: "We are but the sheep in this case; go to."

When the two brothers were taken from the office to be locked up for the night at police headquarters in Manhattan, they seemed unbroken by the strain. They made a long written statement for the District Attorney in which they told their stories.

It had been reported earlier in the evening that "Whitey," whose real name is Morris B. Diamond, although he is also known as "Barlow" M. Diamond, had wilted under questions fired at him, and, although protesting his own innocence, had admitted he knew the men who did the shooting and was willing to tell their names.

Whether this was true could not be learned. Only one thing was learned—through all the questioning they insisted they were not involved in the killing. At first, "Whitey," after being brought to District Attorney Dodd's office, whimpered in fear. It seemed to the police that "Whitey," who boasted to them he was the greatest dice player in the country, was going to lose his gambler's nerve when the stakes went higher than money.

Permits for Several Stories. Permits also were issued for several stories to be erected on sites forbidden to stores by the zoning ordinance that was killed. They are as follows:

A. Mooresey, who obtained a permit to build a one-story store at 4725 South King's highway boulevard, for $5,000; the Perkins Realty and Investment Co. for a one-story brick store at 3607 Penrose avenue, for $20,000; and the Steeley, to build a two-story brick store and office at 5503-7-9 Penrose avenue, cost $40,000; the Glen Eyrle Trust Co., to build a three-story store and hotel at 318 Skinker road, to cost $40,000; and R. C. Long, a two-story store and dwelling at 4430 Rosalie avenue, to cost $8,000.

A permit also was issued for construction of a factory store at 2817 Penrose avenue, to cost $125,000, by the Perkins Realty and Investment Co. It is to be an ice plant, and a former application for a zoning ordinance to its death in the Supreme Court.

Application for an injunction to restrain the Board of Public Service from taking any action on a zoning ordinance was made before Circuit Judge Landwehr today by the Penrose Investment Co., Perkins Realty and Investment Co., and the Better Built Home and Mortgage Co. These are the same plaintiffs in a similar suit filed yesterday against the Board of Aldermen and Mayor Kiel. An injunction was not granted, but Judge Landwehr set Dec. 3 as the date on which the defendants must show cause why the application should not be granted. This is also the date for a return on yesterday's application. Both suits allege conspiracy to circumvent the Supreme Court decision.

YOUTH IDENTIFIED BY WITNESS OF HOLDUP AS SLAYER

"I Could Pick Him Out of 1000," Says Man Who Saw Two Brooklyn Bank Messengers Slain.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Joseph Diamond, dark haired, good looking, 21 years old, who gave himself up yesterday while the police were searching for him, stood in a line of 20 men last night in the office of District Attorney Dodd in Brooklyn. The door opened and a man entered. He looked at the line quickly, walked directly to the youth and tapped him on the shoulder.

"That's him," he said, and, saying it, identified Joseph Diamond as one of the two men who shot and killed two Brooklyn bank messengers 13 days ago. "He stood only 10 feet from me on the elevated platform. I saw him fire at them. I could pick him out of a thousand."

The identification came at the end of a long day and night of searching questions. "Whitey" Diamond, arrested in Cleveland Sunday evening, at beside his brother, a circle of glowing eyes and sharp tongues surrounded them. The police were "sweating" their prisoners.

Gambler's Nerve Shaken. Shortly before midnight, nine men, all witnesses of some part of the shooting, for three minutes, were brought into the room and faced the lineup. None was able to pick "Whitey" out of the group as the witness saw. Only one identified Joseph.

Barlow Diamond, after being grilled for more than an hour by the District Attorney, said he placed $9000 in a safety deposit box in the Cleveland Trust Co. in Cleveland, where he was arrested. Steps were taken to have the box opened.

The Diamonds today were held without bail for examination Dec. 3, on charges of murder and robbery. The brothers before entering the courtroom had said: "We are but the sheep in this case; go to."

GERMAN COMMUNIST PARTY THREATENS DEATH TO TRAITORS

Order of Dissolution Defied, but Headquarters Will Be in Some Other Country.

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, Nov. 27.—The communist party remains in existence, "begins a defiant resolution adopted by the communists central organization in rejoinder to the dissolution order of Gen. Von Seeckt."

The party will continue to fight capitalism and aim at the establishment of a soviet in Germany with undiminished vigor. The resolution continues. At the same time it relieves all its officials from their posts and will henceforth operate under a directorate that will have its seat abroad. The conditions of admission into the party will be made more severe and traitors or spies are threatened with death.

The German communist party was organized five years ago by Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg. As it is barely self-supporting here financially it has always been under direction of the Moscow Internationale, and Karl Radek on visiting here was always quartered at the soviet embassy.

Gen. Von Seeckt's order precludes the party from setting up parliamentary candidates and eliminates it from the political field.

National Bank and rented a safe deposit box. "I want the biggest you've got," he said.

He signed the formal application with the name "Leonard Ritter." The next day he appeared at the bank, carrying an expensive black handbag. With him was a woman. They took their black box and the black bag into a booth. They were there nearly 20 minutes. Then they came out. "Whitey" still carried the bag. The woman said she was his sister, and signed a blank entitling her to withdraw valuables from the box at any time. She signed "J. Ritter." Nov. 21, "Whitey" returned to the bank, remained in the booth four minutes and went away. "Whitey" admitted this to the police when he confronted him with Lester B. Scofield, manager of the bank. "Whitey" said the woman was one of his four sisters.

The box was seized yesterday by Detective Charles Eason. It was empty. "Whitey" said he never had anything in it. He wanted it, in connection with a lumber business he intended to start.

Two of "Whitey's" sisters own the Diamond Box Co. "Whitey" and Joseph were nominally "salesmen" there, it was learned last night. "About the middle of November," it was said, the company began to pay bills amounting to thousands of dollars which had remained unpaid for months.

Says Diamond Told Her Brother and He Were Sought for Murder. By the Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—Joyce Normand, a chorus girl playing in the city today told detecting that Joseph Diamond told her he and his brother, Barlow, were sought by New York police for a holdup and double murder. She said she met the brothers through a sum, also a chorus girl, who had known them in New York, according to the detectives. The girl said they were dining on a hotel roof when Joseph told her he had a secret to tell her. The pair went to Joseph's room, where he informed her that he and his brother were wanted in New York for the murder of William S. Barlow. He asked her to marry him, she said, and while they were in the room, Barlow came in. Miss Normand said she asked Barlow whether it was true that he and Joseph had been making a living by holding up people. Barlow, she asserted, laughingly ridiculed the question and suggested that Joseph's mind was affected.

COOLIDGE EXPECTED TO PARDON CRAIG

If President Has Not the Power Effort Will Be Made to Give It to Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Indications are that President Coolidge will exert his power of pardon in the Craig case, in which Comptroller Craig of New York City has been sentenced to jail for 60 days on a contempt charge. If he cannot do so an effort will be made, to give special power by Congress.

"The question," said Representative La Guardia, of New York, "becomes one of the right of the President to prevent the arrogant abuse of the power of the courts through judges appointed for life."

Representative La Guardia and Senator Copeland yesterday urged the President to pardon Craig. La Guardia is a Republican and while he refuses to discuss the details of his conversation with the President, it is supposed he told the President supreme political values in New York are involved.

La Guardia is ready to introduce an enabling act in Congress giving the President the power to pardon Craig. He believes as a lawyer that the President already has this power.

"The President has undoubted power," he said. "To appoint Mrs. Craig a Deputy United States Marshal and place her husband in her custody for 60 days. This would at least give Mr. Craig the opportunity to attend the duties of his office, duties of tremendous importance to the City of New York."

"This case," he continued, "suggests the advisability of investigating all matters regarding the Southern Judicial District of New York. I propose to bring about such an investigation. Through the appointment of receivers, fake bankruptcies, etc., the people of New York are being charged up at least $15,000,000 a year."

President Coolidge will await the return to Washington of Attorney General Daugherty, who now is in Columbus, O., before taking action on the appeal for a pardon for Craig. The Department of Justice, meanwhile, will continue its study of the case. Solicitor General Beck already has furnished the Executive with information he requested yesterday.

In an earlier statement yesterday, which later was correct, Treasury officials said that act in the Tomako case had been considered as establishing a precedent in the campaign against rum runners by coming under the provisions of the pending search seizure treaty.

"Timmy" Bill Furnishes Bail Cash From Handbag. By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A rum schooner Tomako, captured by coast guards after an exchange of six miles off Sealight, J., while flying the British flag, was seized with the knowledge that her crew consisted of 11 men, five of whom were identified with the land of liquor on American shores. Government agents announced.

She is charged with having carried rum to all points along the coast from Portland down to Florida.

After the loss of the Marshall McCoy is said to have arranged for the purchase of the Arcthusa, named her to be placed under British registry and a cabin fitted out for himself. This purchase and transfer of registry, Government officials said, was reported to be illegal and they believed the Tomako still to be an American boat.

MISSOURI CONVICT CAPTURED

Joe Day, Escaped Last August, Taken in Oklahoma. By the Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 27.—

Joe Day, a convict, sent to the Missouri Penitentiary from Greene County, who escaped last Aug. 8, has been captured in Tulsa, Ok., according to word received at the prison. Day said he would waive requisition and return voluntarily to this State, the message stated. Day escaped from the prison farm about six miles east of here last August. He was a mechanic, according to prison records, and had been sent to the farm to repair a tractor. He was sentenced to the penitentiary from Greene County, Jan. 8, 1923, to serve five years for grand larceny, penitentiary records show.

DECREE DISSOLVES TILE MAKERS

U. S. Court Acts on Injunction Sought by Attorney-General. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—A final decree ordering the dissolution of the Tile Manufacturers' Credit Association, sought in injunction proceedings brought by Attorney-General Daugherty, in January, 1923, was entered yesterday in the United States District Court at Columbus, O. Announcement of the decree by the Department of Justice said members of the association, which the Attorney-General al's petition charged was organized primarily for the purpose of establishing and maintaining uniform prices, were restrained from organizing any similar association

LOSE WEIGHT WITHOUT EFFORT—USE MELTO!

You can now be slender, graceful and charming—without strenuous exercise or strict diets. Your skin has at last discovered Melto—the truly sensible, easy, comfortable way to reduce.

Melto is a delicate, rose-tinted cream. You simply apply it to the part you want to reduce—he it hips, waist, bust, arms, ankles or elsewhere. Rub lightly for a few minutes each day. You'll soon find the fat melting away! Your skin becomes firm and healthy, your mind clearer, your disposition happier!

It's almost too good to be true—yet you can prove the wonderful qualities of Melto just as thousands of other grateful women have proved it.

It is perfectly safe and pleasant to use, very easy to apply. It requires little effort and produces such wonderful results that you should let another day go by without a Melto treatment. Get Melto at your druggist or toilet goods department today. An 8 ounce jar costs only 25c.

It's absolutely harmless!
Free—Write for interesting booklet about the merits of Melto.

THEATER TICKET 'BROKERAGE' SOMETIMES $400 A WEEK

Former Treasurer for Belasco Tells How He Earned $10,000 a Year.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—"The testimony of Mr. Lyons in this case partly explains why the public have to pay such high prices for theater tickets in New York City," said Justice Strong in Supreme Court, Queens, yesterday, commenting upon the statement by C. J. Lyons of Woodhaven, during a trial, that he had made as high as $400 a week extra when, as treasurer of the Belasco theater, Manhattan, he had collected "brokerage" fees from ticket agencies.

The action is one in which Lyons claims $4642.50 as due him in profits of a syndicate in which he invested.

He was testifying as to his financial status and said that at the time the syndicate was organized he was earning from $10,000 to $12,000 a year as treasurer of the Belasco theater. He was asked by the defendant's attorney if he had not testified once before that he was making only $15 a week as treasurer and he answered that he had.

When asked to explain, he said:

"That is a simple matter. A treasurer in a box office receives a salary and he is also entitled to the brokerage from the ticket broker. Some weeks it will run up to $200 or $400. That is the treasurers. I never gave a ticket to a broker unless he paid me at least 25 cents extra, and some times I was paid as high as $1 a ticket extra."

COAL CONFEREES ADJOURN

Representatives of Anthracite Using

States Criticize Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 27.—

Representatives of anthracite consumers meeting here yesterday to consider plans to bring about lower coal prices, received from Gov. Pinchot a proposal for regulation of the industry through a joint commission to be formed under a compact of states and, in turn, called upon Pennsylvania to take the first steps by repeal of its coal tax and passage of other remedial legislation.

The meeting adjourned without action to meet later at the call of Gov. Pinchot. Gov. Freese of Minnesota, opposed the Pinchot plan and proposed that a special session of the Pennsylvania legislature be called to pass on an act declaring the anthracite industry a public business.

Did YOUR SON Die to Make the Politicians Wealthy?

Hearst's International forced public hearings at Washington on the theft of a billion and a half dollars. This money was intended for disabled veterans. They only got $500,000,000 out of two billion dollars.

The other billion and a half went to crooked politicians and crooked contractors. Only a little of the truth came out at Washington.

We know all the truth. Another big slice of it is in Hearst's International for December. It shows what kind of a man the politicians will put in high office when it is part of their game. It gives further examples of where the money goes.

The job is only just begun.

That job will not be finished unless the American public are allowed to have light on what the politicians do when there is a big bunch of money to get hold of.

We are shedding this light so that the rest of the money given up by the American people to help disabled veterans will not also be stolen.

Also in December What Ford's Restless Mind Is Doing Now—Was the Klan Senator Elected by Fraud?—Is Bishop Brown Crazy?—Mary Garden's Own Life Story, and other important articles. Stories by Gilbert K. Chesterton, Gouverneur Morris, Kathleen Norris, Inez Haynes Irwin, James B. Connolly, and other world-famous authors.

POLICEMAN CHARGES 'LEAPFROG' GAME TO 'FOLLOW THE LEADER'

Five Playing at Columbus Playground for Police Lead to Court—Two Are Fined.

When Columbus Playground, at Eleventh and Carr streets, was laid out several years ago, everybody thought it would be an "awfully nice place for the children of the neighborhood to indulge in innocent childish delights, such as swinging and sliding and the like. But last Sunday afternoon, when Pauline Lachman, 24 years old, was playing leapfrog with three other children, she was charged with "following the leader." The policeman's curiosity was aroused. He investigated, and he found leapfrog was not being played merely for physical exercise. The nine were trying to determine who was going to "rush the next quart."

It didn't take the policeman long to learn that a couple of other quarts already had been "rushed." So, instead of letting the nine continue in the innocent pastime of leapfrog, Lachman charged the game to "follow the leader," with himself as the first in line, and "rushed" the merry party across the street to the Carr Street Police District.

Yesterday two of the "boys" pleaded guilty to intoxication when brought into Police Court, but were let off because it was their first arrest for that offense, while five others were dismissed, either for that reason or because they hadn't been arrested recently for drinking. But two of them were fined $10 each. They had grooved the court on the same charge before in the past few months.

DRIVER KILLED BY HIS WAGON

Wheel Pinned Over Richard Kincaid, 28, After Fall Into Street. Richard Kincaid, 28 years old, of 1442 Bird avenue, a driver for a coal company, was killed at 3 p. m. yesterday when he fell from his wagon and a wheel passed over his body in front of 4545 Newberry terrace.

Kincaid's team became unruly as he was driving west in Newberry terrace and in attempting to control them, he lost his balance and fell.

THE BEST WAY TO GET YOUR IRON

Do you know that one of the reasons why physicians have prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan for 30 years is because of its ample supply of iron?

Physicians demand that the iron content of Gude's was readily absorbed by the system, that it did not irritate the stomach or injure the teeth, and that it quickly and effectively tones and strengthens the system. At your druggist's, in both liquid and tablet form. Free Trial Tablets. To see for yourself the iron content of Gude's Pepto-Mangan, send for a Free Trial Package of Tablets. HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

You May Have It—
But Don't Know It.

Norma is the name of the one successful prescription that thousands are daily taking to reduce high blood pressure to normal—often one bottle brings assurance of permanent reduction.

Used with unvarying success for many years in his private practice, and having, quickly, effectively and harmlessly, secured Budolph's plan decided to allow it to be dispensed in pharmacies of the better class.

There is little mystery today regarding high blood pressure, yet it is a dread condition that causes constant worry to those who have it. The most pronounced symptoms are dizzy spells, hot flashes, shortness of breath, dreams that disturb sleep, headache, nervousness and a steady feeling that something dreadful is going to happen.

Norma is for high blood pressure and nothing else, and that is why it does reduce high blood pressure, and, as that condition usually prevails with women at the important change in life, many have found it the most helpful of remedies.

FATAL EXPLOSION IN MINE HELD TO ONE SECTION

Cement Barrier System Used in Shaft at Orient, Ill., Preventing General Disaster.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Nov. 27.—A coroner's jury, partly made up of coal miners, today rendered a verdict declaring that the two deaths yesterday in Mine No. 1 of the Chicago, Wilmington & Franklin Coal Co. at Orient, the largest soft coal mine in the world, were due to an accidental explosion of gas. No blame was placed upon anyone by the jury.

The mine is still closed, and many not reopen until after Thanksgiving. State mine examiners are making a thorough inspection of all parts of the mine. An examiner on duty at the mine testified in the inquest that he found no trace of gas, in his visit, about 1 a. m. yesterday, to the part of the mine where the explosion occurred seven hours later. Miners said the gas could develop within a few hours, particularly in a pocket caused by the fall of coal from the ceiling.

Ceiling Break Reported.

There was no eye-witness testimony, but the company's version of the matter appeared to be generally accepted. This was that a section of the ceiling fell in panel No. 5, where about 25 of the 300 underground employees were at work. In climbing over the heap of coal, one of the miners got his uncovered carbide torch too near the ceiling, where gas had formed.

There was a ball of fire. That was how the miners described it afterward. The chambers were filled with gas, and the workers and the boy at the trapdoor were wholly or partly overcome. Two were fatally suffocated, one of these being the miner whose torch caused the explosion—which of the two this was has not been determined.

Quick Safety Work.

But the rest of the underground city was not affected. The workers in an adjoining panel heard the explosion, a telephone call was sent to the central switchboard and its operator called all the panels of the mine and ordered the men out. It was while they were getting out, between 8:30 and 9 a. m. yesterday, that reports of a great disaster became current. But by means of the cement barrier system, the gases from the explosion were confined to the place where they started, and the casualties were limited to the two deaths and to the injuring of 13 men, of whom 10 are still in a hospital here. All are expected to recover.

The panels into which the mine is divided are uniformly 550 by 622 feet and the ceilings are eight feet high. The usual working force in each panel is 35. When panels are worked out, they are walled in with cement, so that different parts of the mine have independent air supplies, and gas originating in one of the panels does not go beyond that panel.

Uncovered torches are preferred by the miners, and are provided for in the contracts between the mine owners and the miners' union. In this particular case, the uncovered torch caused an explosion, but the miners say that in most cases, under the conditions of soft coal mining, the uncovered torch makes for safety. If covered torches were used, small quantities of gas would not be ignited, and would accumulate until they would become dangerous and a spark might cause an explosion.

Rescue Teams Sent to Scene.

At the first news of the explosion in panel No. 5, rescue teams started from West Frankfort, Benton, Herwin, Zeigler and Johnson City. The first rescue workers to enter the mine supposed that many men were in danger, for some of the miners in their hasty exit had not checked out in the required way, hence were unaccounted for. The rescue workers went through all parts of the great mine, which has been compared in its extent and its manner of division to a department store. They found all the panels clear, except the one where the explosion occurred. There they removed the two bodies and helped the survivors, whose injuries were from partial suffocation more than from burns, to get out.

Harry Odie, 23 years old, and I. B. Hamilton, 20, were the two who lost their lives. Odie's brother, Charles, a soldier from Fort Sheridan, had just arrived in West Frankfort to visit his mother. The mother will receive the $700 death benefit paid jointly by the State and the union.

The most seriously affected of those still in the hospital are Kasper Sharpa, Steve Padboa, Ralph Sweet, Ben Lenich, Joe Skok and Frank Walte. The last named was a survivor of the Cherry mine disaster of 1909.

"A Puff, and It Was All Over."

Describing his latest experience, Walte said: "I heard a loud report, and the next moment I saw a big ball of fire coming towards me like lightning. I fell to the ground and threw my coat over my head, but the blaze hit me just the same. It was just like a puff and it was all over."

HUSBAND WHO CAME HOME AT 2 A. M.

Attacked Him With Knife
in Each Hand, Saloon
Owner Says.

The marital affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parissi of 4903 W. W. Grove, reached another crisis today when Mrs. Parissi shot her husband with a butcher knife, who has a saloon at 200 North Grand boulevard, the result of which to the basement park has made him known to the fans. Reached home at 2 A. M. A quarrel with his wife followed and he fled from the house, being cut to a filling station on King's highway and Wells avenue, where he notified the police and was taken to the city hospital. He is suffering from a stabwound in the abdomen and cuts on the arms.

Country versions were given the by Parissi and his wife.

Mrs. Parissi: "I got home about 10 o'clock and was eating prunes in the kitchen when my wife camed and opened up an old quarrel. When I told her to go to bed she seized two butcher knives and rushed at me, stabbing me and slashing with the knives. I took it for the police as I could. That's all."

Mrs. Parissi said she sat up for a husband who did not come home. Shortly after retiring she heard him enter and go to the bedroom downstairs. She told him he was not devoted; that she had tired of being neglected; that he ought to be ashamed of being so inattentive. She declared he attempted to strike her and that she seized a butcher knife and used it in self-defense, whereupon her husband fled.

Last September Mrs. Parissi filed a $50,000 alienation suit against another woman, which was subsequently withdrawn and a reconciliation was effected. They have a son, 13 years old.

COUNTY COURT REFUSES TO PAY BILL FOR SEIBEL AUDIT

By 2 to 1 Vote Holds Law Forbids Payment to Private Firm for Review of Books.

The County Court of St. Louis County, by a two to one vote, yesterday declined to pay a bill for $2775 from the National Tax and Audit Co. for making an audit last January of the books of former County Clerk William Seibel.

C. C. Wolff, commissioner of the County Court, recommended that the bill be rejected, declaring there was no authority for payment to a private firm for making audits, since the State maintained a force of auditors for the purpose. Richard R. Smiley, presiding Judge, voted for payment of the bill, but was outvoted by Judges Daniel Sheerin and John Rietten. As is known, the audit was ordered in response to the suggestion of the Clean Election League, and a final report was made a number of weeks ago.

Walter Edwards, president of the audit company, said suit would be brought against the County Court in an effort to collect.

CONVENTION BUREAU TO AID FUND CAMPAIGN

Will Participate Actively in Effort to Get Democratic Meeting for City.

The St. Louis Conventions and Publicity Bureau will participate actively in the campaign to raise the $100,000 minimum fund required in an effort to bring the 1934 Democratic national convention to St. Louis, the board of directors decided at a special meeting yesterday afternoon.

It had been the intention of officers of the bureau to turn all details of the campaign over to officers of a general supervisory committee of 400, which will be organized in a week or 10 days.

The bureau directors were of the unanimous opinion, however, that better results would be obtained if the bureau continued in the active campaign and authority for such action was voted.

Steps taken by H. W. Geller, president, and Charles F. Hatfield, secretary-manager of the bureau, in instituting the campaign for the convention, were endorsed by the board.

The organization committee, appointed by resolution of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to plan the campaign is in session this afternoon for further consideration of the personnel of the committee of 400.

LOSES TOP OF HIS NOSE IN AN "OLD GRUDGE" FIGHT

Louis Peterson, 45, Also Shot in Fight—His Assault Escapes.

Louis Peterson, 45, of 5662A Delmar boulevard, was shot through the right hand and lost the tip of his nose in a fight in front of the Pullman Car Shop, 2200 Birch road, at 9 o'clock last night. The assailant escaped. Peterson told police the fight was the result of an "old grudge."

Peterson said he was seated in his automobile, waiting for a friend, when the man came to the side of the machine, drew a revolver and threatened to shoot. Peterson said he grabbed the revolver with his right hand as the man pulled the trigger, the bullet passing through his hand at the base of the thumb. He leaped from the machine, he said, and grappled with the man for possession of the weapon, and while in close quarters the man bit the end of his nose, taking off the tip, and then ran away.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR AID FUND AT WASHINGTON U.

Result of Recent Suggestion That Deserving Boys and Girls Should Be Helped in Obtaining Education.

Announcement was made today by Chancellor Hadley of Washington University of plans for an organized system of aid for deserving students, to enable those who could not otherwise do so to obtain university education. The announcement indicates that realization of a suggestion made in an address at a dinner in the Chancellor's honor, Oct. 16, is under way.

It is hoped to raise eventually a fund of $2,000,000, the interest of which would be available for loans to students, at not to exceed $200 per year each. This would mean that about 500 students a year could be assisted.

There is a basis for the fund in an amount between $200,000 and $250,000 now existing for scholarships.

It was stated that the scheme is not so ambitious as that made public last Saturday by St. Louis University, which plans to obtain a fund to yield $150,000 a year for free education of 2000 students in the high school and academic departments.

Statement of Chancellor. Chancellor Hadley's statement, in part, follows:

"When I said in my speech at the City Club last Thursday that those who were interested in furthering this movement had neither lost interest nor enthusiasm, I was not expressing a hope, but making a statement of facts. For several years a number of alumni of Washington University have had an organization of which J. M. Leahy has been president, and by individual contributions each year they have helped a number of deserving boys through the university.

"These men have actively taken up the timely suggestion of F. O. Watts, made at the dinner (in Hadley's honor) as to creation of a community fund for the commendable purpose of helping deserving boys and girls secure an education by lending them money necessary to do so.

Plans Quietly Matured.

"For the past six weeks plans have been quietly matured for perfection of this organization. It will probably be incorporated as a students' aid fund and the necessary machinery perfected for an effective attention to all details. Mr. Watts is still much interested in the matter and stands ready to help both personally and financially. We have received a number of communications from citizens of prominence and substance, assuring us of their assistance.

"To the organization which will be perfected all those interested will have the opportunity to contribute, and contributions will be of two kinds—first, lump sums, of which the interest will be used; second, such yearly contributions as the donor feels he can give to such a worthy purpose.

Primarily a Loan Fund.

"While those actively connected with this enterprise will be Washington University alumni, I hope to see the purpose of the organization sufficiently broad to provide for the aid of deserving students in other institutions which do not have similar funds provided. . . . Our enterprise is primarily to provide a student loan fund, and with the start already made we hope to see this fund grow year to year through the return of money loaned, but also through new contributions and particularly through contributions from those who have been able to get an education through such assistance."

Insane Elopers' Car Kills Boy.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 27.—George Kenneth Whiteside, whom New Haven physicians were preparing to confine for mental derangement, and Miss Willford E. Wheaton, left New Haven in an automobile this morning, apparently to elope, motored to Hartford at 60 miles an hour, knocked down and killed John Fedora, 8 years old, sped north on Main street on the wrong side of the street at about 50 miles an hour and crashed into four automobiles. The Fedora boy was knocked under the wheels of a trolley car and his body cut in two. Whiteside and Miss Wheaton were only slightly injured. Both were taken to a hospital, and later Whiteside was sent to the Hartford Reformatory for observation and confinement.

ROBINSON AGAINST TAX CUT WITHOUT SOLDIERS' BONUS

Democratic Leader of the Senate Refuses to Subscribe to Deduction That We Cannot Have Both.

HOUSE PROGRESSIVES
ATTACK THE PROGRAM

Assert They Find Nothing in Plan Tending to Stimulate Legitimate Business or Cut Living Costs.

By CHARLES MICHELSON.

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—President's tax reduction proposal has become gloomy with the advent of Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic leader of the Senate. The Senator's opposition to the plan is a serious blow to the administration's policy. Robinson's deduction that we cannot have both tax reduction and the bonus is a serious blow to the administration's policy. Robinson's deduction that we cannot have both tax reduction and the bonus is a serious blow to the administration's policy.

Senator Robinson and Watson, both members of the Finance Committee, have announced they will vote against reporting a bill unless they are sure of a sufficient majority to pass it and undoubtedly the same will be followed on the House side, where control of the Ways and Means Committee is being struggled for by the regular and insurgent Republican factions. Declaration by Progressives.
The executive committee of the House Progressives held a session and issued an attack on the Mellon plan, emphasizing that it would cost from $100,000 to $200,000 a year on Mellon's personal tax bill and vast amounts in the Washington newspapers that are supporting the Mellon plan.
"If this statement is substantiated," the declaration runs, "we may explain the eagerness with which Mellon and 'Noise' of the Washington papers and others are so ardently supporting the Mellon plan and denunciation of those who differ from him."
"Feeling they found nothing in the Mellon plan that tends to stimulate legitimate business or reduce the cost of living, the insurgents' unhesitating announcement, 'A taxation plan will be proposed that will reduce the tax burden of small taxpayers more than is contemplated by the Mellon proposal and further providing sufficient from these best able to make good any necessary deficit occasioned by payment of the soldiers' compensation bill."

One Glimpse of Hope.
The one glimpse of hope for cutters lies in the circumstance that President Coolidge will offer the Mellon plan in his message and the Mellon plan specifically proposes a soldiers' bonus impossible if the reductions are to be accomplished.
"If Mr. Coolidge will go to the extent of vetoing the bonus bill, which in all probability will be done before the tax cut and in any way, there is a possibility that he can influence enough votes to sustain his veto and perhaps the pressure of public opinion will change the Congressmen into action."

The matter is unquestionably complicated with the original difficulties that confront Congress. The House Western group now in rebellion demands enough places on the important committees to give them, with the Democrats, the majority. The regular Republicans insist that they will not yield control and dare the insurgents and Democrats to organize either or both houses, believing, not unreasonably, that the Democrats have no chance for securing re-election on the eve of a national election for what may issue from the House.

Policy of Tax Program Feasible.
It is quite possible that the tax reduction will not be reached for a long time. It is quite possible that President Coolidge will receive notice that Congress is prepared to listen to him in joint session until after the Christmas holidays, for, until the two bodies start presiding officers, they cannot function except by unanimous consent, so the tax matter, like the other administrative proposals, may wait for weeks before it is officially before Congress.

In the Senate Finance Committee there are four vacancies on the Republican side and one on the Democratic. Assuming that the present ratio of 16 to 6 is maintained on Page Twenty.

It Seems to Me

All those who love Whittier may be delighted to hear that a motion picture has been made of "The Barefoot Boy." We have not the privilege of seeing the picture, but we can present you with the scenario furnished by the Motion Picture Corporation. Mr. Walter Clifton, who wrote the scenario, says modestly that it was "suggested by the poem by John Greenleaf Whittier." Here it is:

"In the little village of Oakdale about the year 1900 lived Dick Allen, a barefoot boy of 12, with his mother and John Blake, his cruel stepfather. Aside from his mother, Dick's only friends in the village are Tom Adams, the town drunkard, and Mary Truesdale, the little freckle-faced girl who lived next door. Although Mary is wonderful to Dick, and she binds up his scratches and sores, so often he always takes her for granted.

"Oakdale is soon to become a mining town because of a factory about to be erected by the father of Rodman Grant. Rodman is a spoiled, supercilious boy of 14, determined to save the pretty, brilliant Carter, an equally spoiled and snobbish child, whom every boy in the village school, including Dick, admires.

"When the school house catches fire, through the carelessness of Rodman Grant, it is Dick, the village scapegoat, who is blamed. Because of the beating his stepfather gives him, Dick runs away, vowing to return some day and make the people of Oakdale suffer as they have made him suffer.

"Twenty years pass. Rodman has succeeded his father as president of the factory, and he and brilliant Carter are practically engaged. Meanwhile Dick has become a power in the financial world. Quietly he secures a controlling interest in the Oakdale plant, and returns to town, determined to secure his longed-for revenge by closing down the plant. The years have brought many changes. His mother is dead, his stepfather is blind and Mary Truesdale has developed into a self-supporting young business woman.

"Great is the consternation when Dick discloses the fact that he holds the controlling interest in the factory and declares his intention to close it down and make the place a ruin. As the day approaches Rodman Grant employs two trucks to overpower the watchman at the plant and blow up the boiler. Mary, deciding to meet Dick, appeals to Dick, calls at his home, but is told he has gone to the factory office, where she follows him. One of the boilers explodes, the office is wrecked and Dick is pinned beneath a heavy beam. Mary lies a few feet away, unconscious, as a jet of steam blows demands on her from a broken pipe.

"As Dick makes frantic efforts to extricate himself, he at last realizes his love for Mary and the possibility of revenge. The second boiler explodes and immense force blows the beam off its hinges. Dick is freed and carries her to safety. When she awakes, Dick tells the assembled towns people that the plant will be reopened. Later, on a hilltop overlooking the town, Dick and Mary plight their troth."

"St. John Ervine, who wrote "The Flea Family," and "The Flea Family," who wrote "The Flea Family," is just about to undergo the exquisite pleasure of quitting a job as dramatic critic. He writes a farewell, called "I Take My Leave," for the London Observer, where he has been serving as a reviewer for the last three years.

"And now," he writes, "it is time for me to go. I have filled this part of the paper for more than three years, and I am sure you have had more than enough of it. I am beginning to repeat myself, and when a man does that it is high time he went. You have read all that I have to say about the theater, and you will not want to read it again and so, giving you my thanks for listening to me patiently, I take my leave. There is a time when a reviewer is to be a dramatic critic. Some of my colleagues have spent more time in criticism than I have spent on my pen and ink, but I am not unhappy. I have seen about 200 plays since I joined the Observer, but that is a trifling number. There must be at least half a dozen men in London who have seen 500 or 600 plays performed. The thought is appalling. I imagine myself, who have a little of the strength and fertility, at the age of 49 or thereabouts, suddenly realizing that I am about to see my six thousandth play. And then my imagination gives out. I tell myself that a time will come when because of my unhappy ability to get completely absorbed in the thing I am doing, I shall be unable to talk or think or dream of anything but the theater. AWFUL! Already I see signs of this doom. People who used to talk to me quite freely about this or that, now always begin their conversation with, 'Well, how's the theater getting on?' One afternoon I found myself sitting beside the Hon. Chancellor of the Exchequer, and I thought to myself, 'Here's a good chance for me to tell him just how to do his job.' I hurriedly drew up a paper and was about to explain it to him when he said to me, 'I say, Ervine, what's a good way to see?'"

MISS ALICE SCOTT, daughter of Mrs. Henry Clarkson Scott of 31 West at a dinner the evening of Dec. 19, before the St. Louis Country Club, at which Mrs. Arthur B. Shepley will introduce her daughter. Guests at the dinner will include the bride party of Mr. and Mrs. Wayman McCreary Allen, whose marriage took place Nov. 17, with the exception of Misses Mary and Margaret Carter, twin sisters of the bride, who have returned to their studies at Miss Porter's School in Farmington, Conn., and three young women from the East who have returned home. Mr. and Mrs. Allen sailed Saturday from New York for Cuba, to their honeymoon, and will return home for the dinner and ball. She was Miss Elizabeth Carter.

Plans are being made for the return of the sub-debaters from finishing schools. A group at the Westover School in Connecticut will leave there Dec. 21 for home. Includes Misses Virginia Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Welsh Simmons of Clayton; Miss Jessie Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Carr of 62 Vandeventer place; Miss Elizabeth Cuen, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Cuen of 4 Horstense place; Miss Katherine Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Douglas of 6300 Ellenwood avenue; Miss Katharine McCune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. McCune of 37 Kingsbury place; and Miss Elizabeth Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Douglas of 16 Vandeventer place.

From the Visitation Convent at Georgetown, Md., will come Miss Julia Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gwynne Evans of 4413 West Pine boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burkhart of 5035 Westminster place, will entertain the school set who are to return home for the holidays at a dinner dance at the St. Louis Country Club the evening of Dec. 24. For their daughter, Miss Margaret Burkhart. Invitations for the affair have been received this morning.

Another party planned for the younger set is a bridge party the afternoon of Dec. 1, at which Miss Ruth Hennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Hennings, will entertain her classmates at the Mary Institute at a bridge party. The guests have been invited to the Hennings home, 6049 West Cabanne place. Cards for this party also were received this morning's mail.

A dinner was given last night by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Macmillen of the Buckingham Hotel, in honor of Mr. Macmillen's brother, Francis Macmillen of New York, violin soloist for the Symphony Orchestra this week, and his bride. An impromptu musical followed, with Mr. Macmillen and Mrs. Gans as artists.

Mrs. James D. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harold McCrea have taken possession of their new apartment at 724 Kingsland avenue, University City. Since their marriage early in the spring, they have made their home with Mrs. McCrea's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lockett Edwards of 7230 Maryland drive. Mrs. McCrea was Miss Mary Edwards. They returned a few weeks ago from a trip around the world.

Mrs. R. J. Compton Jr. of New York is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Deacon of Monroe and Dickson avenues, Kirkwood. This is Mrs. Compton's first visit here in two years, and a number of new current, which we have noted the most: "A Lost Lady," by Edith Wharton; "The Puppets," by Robert Nathan.

One complaint against Miss Carter's novel seems to us sound. There is, at the beginning of the book, a most horrible episode, in which a boy catches a woodpecker about the bird's eyes and then releases it. Though it is as unpleasant a happening as we can recall in recent fiction, we would hardly deny it to the author if it served any good purpose. We cannot say that it does. Rather, it is a false clew. The ingeniously evil boy grows up to be a successful politician, as might have been expected. We rather suspect that Miss Carter seized upon the bird incident for no better purpose than to establish the character of the villain from the outset. This is not technique of the highest order. And besides, we never believe in the authenticity of complete villainy.

VISITING IN KANSAS CITY

MISS ELIZABETH BURTON HUBBELL.

MISS HUBBELL, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Hubbell of 5934 Clemens avenue, is being much entertained in Kansas City by her aunt, Mrs. Edward T. Hubbell. On Dec. 4 she will share honor with Mrs. Ernest Hamand Hubbell of Chicago at a tea to be given by her hostess.

Of informal parties are being given for her. She was Miss Margaret Deacon before her marriage. Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Walker McMillan will give a bridge in her honor. Yesterday she was honor guest at a party given by Mrs. H. A. Goodrich of Webster Groves. Mrs. Deacon gave a tea for her daughter several days ago.

Mrs. Adela Kahle will entertain about 30 of her friends at a bridge luncheon today at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Roland Kahle, on the Rock road, Kirkwood. Mrs. Kahle Sr. came here from Dresden, Germany, 20 years ago and makes her home most of the time with her son.

Miss Frances Wood of Kansas City, Mo., will arrive today to be a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Van Dyke of Webster Groves, and to attend the wedding tomorrow night of Miss Vesta Elliot Reed and Capt. Glider Davis Jackson, U. S. M. C., at St. Michael and All Angels' Church.

Mrs. Thomas Hudson Thatcher has sent out cards for a tea from 4 to 6 o'clock Thursday, Dec. 23, for her daughter, Miss Elizabeth, who will make her bow to her mother's friends at this affair, while her formal debut will be at a ball the evening of Dec. 22.

Miss Marydella Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Woods of 7059 Kingsbury boulevard, has returned from a month in the South. She attended the wedding of Miss Margaret Shillman and Edward Holt at Dallas, Tex., and later visited her aunt, Mrs. Crider, in Shreveport.

Among the St. Louis girls at Smith College who will return home for the holidays is Miss Frances Shackelford McConnell, a freshman, daughter of Mrs. Gustine McConnell of 4748 Westminster place.

The annual benefit bridge of the Lenox Hall Alumnae will be given Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Claridge Hotel. Miss Frances Murray is president of the alumnae; Miss Dorothy Hopkins, secretary and treasurer; and Miss Genevieve Carragher, recording secretary. The proceeds from the party will go to charity.

Mrs. M. Louise Thomas of Lenox Hall, has sent out invitations for a recital at Lenox Hall, Friday evening, Nov. 30, by Lewis Godfrey Thomas, pianist.

OTIS SKINNER IN RICH ROLE OF SANCHE PANZA

Actor's Voice as Hearty in Color as Play Is Gay in Costume, Brave in Setting.

BY HEYWOOD BROU.
Drama Critic of the New York World.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—"Sancho Panza" is a form of dramatic entertainment little known in our theater, for it's part play and part ballet. It is almost as if someone were to write the words to go with "Petruchiad."

There is more than novelty to recommend the venture in which Otis Skinner appeared last night at the Hudson Theater. This is new land and also fertile. To be sure, the synthesis of the two elements is not always complete. The music, for instance, seems at times an interlude rather than an organic part of the entertainment.

At its most fantastic moments, "Sancho Panza" is pretty constantly apparent. Only when it attempts to become adult and rational does the question of the purpose of it at all become troublesome.

It is a rich role which has been spread for Mr. Skinner. There is ample opportunity for him to lose his fine round voice in which every word keeps its place in line and never joggles against another in a frantic effort to get ahead.

Moreover it is fitting that the lines should be spoken by Skinner since "Sancho Panza" is a play gay in costume and brave in setting. It is well to have a voice as hearty in color as anything in the way of trappings which may be brought against it.

We have never thought of Otis Skinner as having either desire or pretensions to a place among the naturalists of the lack of ingenuity. His reality is no handicap whatever in his present role. The hope of the play lies throughout in the achievement of the fabulous, and we found in the star quite the proper swaggering manner.

The production by Richard Boleslawsky is imaginative and the company well trained. Among the members of the supporting cast Robert Rose is conspicuously able as the Donkey and Marguerite Forrest a most charming heroine.

MASONIC DEGREES CONFERRED

Class of 700 Initiated at the College.

The degree of most excellent master of Royal Arch Masons was conferred on a class of 700 last night at the Coliseum. The one-hundred and twenty-sixth anniversary of the General Grand Chapter was observed in connection with the initiation. Approximately 6000 persons attended, many coming from nearby towns in Illinois and Missouri.

An orchestral concert, a drill by the Missouri State Police and a reception for distinguished visitors preceded the ceremonies. Masonic officials from various parts of Missouri were present.

MRS. RUTH ULMAN LICENSED TO WED CLARK KRETSCHMAR

She Is Widow of Hotel Manager; He Was Divorced Last February by Former Miss Ellen Baker.
A marriage license was issued yesterday to Mrs. Ruth Ulman of Los Angeles, widow of William A. Ulman, who was manager of the Branscombe Apartment Hotel, and Clark F. Kretschmar, formerly at various times a St. Louis University football player, a sugar broker, an Ensign in the navy and a garage proprietor.

Mrs. Ulman has a son and a daughter. Kretschmar, who is 31 years old, formerly lived at the Branscombe. Last February he was divorced by a former wife, who was Miss Ellen Baker, heiress to half of the $300,000 estate of her mother, the late Mrs. Katie Wainwright Baker. Shortly after her divorce from Kretschmar, Miss Baker married Tom May, who formerly was employed at the Ford assembly plant here.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Premier Poincare and Madame Poincare last evening gave a dinner in honor of Gen. John J. Pershing. The guests included Mr. Herriot, the American Ambassador, Marshal Foch, Joffre, Petain and Franchet d'Esperey, Minister of War Maginot, Minister of Marine Raiberti and Col. T. Bentley Mott, military attaché of the American Embassy.

Instructor and Student Wed.
MINNAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 27.—An elopement of an instructor and a girl student in the University of Minnesota was revealed yesterday when Kathleen Schnepfer of Minneapolis, 20 years old, senior, returned to her classes at St. Harold C. Street, wife of a member of the faculty.

BALDWIN ON U. S. SCHOOLS

American Boy of 15 Two Years Behind English, He Says.
LONDON, Nov. 27.—The assertion that the achievement of American schools is far below that of British was made by Prime Minister Baldwin last night in an election speech at Bristol. Replying to the statement of a Laborite speaker that the Conservatives were opposed to popular education, the Premier said:

"We hear a great deal about American education, but from such opportunities as I have had of consulting those who have visited American schools I do not believe the actual achievement of those schools is comparable to our schools. That judgment has been endorsed by American educators themselves. I am told a highly competent observer has said that on the whole, an American boy of 15 is in knowledge and achievement about two years behind an English pupil of the same age."

LADY ASTOR HAS HARD FIGHT

Liborite Opposes Her in Contest for Parliament.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Nov. 27.—Nominations for Parliament in the Sutton division of Plymouth confirm the report that Lady Astor will have a straight fight with the Liborite, Capt. G. W. Brennan. In the last election Lady Astor defeated Capt. Brennan by more than 3000 votes, but there was an independent Conservative in the contest, who polled more than 4000. The two candidates met at the nomination table yesterday and exchanged greetings. In the lobby of the Guild Hall they held an animated conversation for some minutes, were then photographed together and parted with a handshake and an exchange of bantering challenges. Lady Astor explaining as she entered her automobile: "Fight fair; let us have a crack!"

Lady Astor held an enthusiastic meeting at night, and was obliged to address an overflow meeting. She expressed gratitude to the Liborite for not continuing a campaign against her, remarking that she had faced misrepresentation and calumny to fight for social reforms.

WEDDING SUCH AS HARLEM NEVER HAD SEEN BEFORE

party at Villa Lewaro, home of the mother of the bride.

2000 Women There Early.
With all that had gone before, and the dew covering Harlem just as thoroughly as the dew covers Dixie, small wonder that two hours before the wedding 2000 women were in the street, determined, as one stout spectator said between pokes from a policeman, "to see the colored millanaires, wed." Twenty-one sturdy policemen under Sergeant McLaughlin were there from the West 15th street station. Five detectives were at the canopied entrance to St. Philip's. A negro doorman, in a brand-new livery, white gloves and a white waistcoat, was there to open the doors of the limousines, touring cars and taxis as they arrived. Nobody came on foot.

Two taxicabs arrived, and six young girls, vivid as rainbows, giggled into the church. One of the spectators made a complimentary remark about the arrivals' appearance.

"You ain't seen nuthin' yet," commented the doorman, proudly, "that's the light stuff arrivin' now—wait till the heavy stuff in the limousines begins to get heat. Oh boy!"

When they did—the furs began to show: mink coats, squirrel coats, ermine coats, a fashion parade of fur. And the jewelry it seemed as if Tiffany had got into partnership with Black, Starr & Frost. Great bouquets—Ah, St. Thomas' faded, faded and was gone. St. Bartholomew's was unpaired. St. Philip's, inside and out, blossomed and burst into scintillating grandeur.

Dresses of Bridal Party.
But what were the dresses of the bridal party? Were it not for the advance notice of Mrs. Patton, social secretary to Mrs. Walker, the world would never know; but here they are:

"Outfits," said the notice, with a dash, thus—"Bride: Gown of chiffon headed with sea pearls over bride's satin. Tulle veil attached to Egyptian pearl headgear and caught with orange blossoms, designed and made by Mrs. Pearl Crawford Craft of Philadelphia.

"Bridesmaids, Maid of Honor: Gowns of cream colored Chantilly lace over silver cloth, designed and made by Mrs. Miriam Anderson. Matrons: Silver cloth gown and chiffon hat, designed and made by Mrs. Robert Frazier, sister of the matron. Coronets of beaded silver cloth, designed and made by Mr. Mildred Blount; beaded silver slippers made by the Eagle Sho' Shop.

"Flower girls: Dresses of whiteorgette over white satin, trimmed with real lace, rosebuds and ribbons, made and designed by Mrs. Marie Payton.

"Ring bearer: White satin suit made by Mrs. Verner Tandy Sr. "Mother of the bride: Gown of gold metal cloth, designed and made in Paris.

Formal Attire for Groom.
"Groom, best man and ushers. All attired in the formal morning attire."

After noticing that the sabre later used by the bride to cut the cake at Villa Lewaro was lent by Maj. Tandy, father of the 6-year-old ring bearer—who wandered down the aisle completely submerged by the excitement of it all—Mrs. Patton's advance to the press turned to the gifts to the bridal party. Thus:

"Gifts. Bride to matron of honor: Platted green gold bracelet fastened with lock containing two diamonds and a blue sapphire. "Bride to bridesmaids: Ivory Episcopal prayer books.

"Groom to best man and ushers: Cane and cigarette cases. "Groom to bride: Diamond brooch.

"Mother to couple: Especially made mahogany case containing an heirloom of 126 pieces of solid silver from Tiffany & Co.

Scene at the Altar.
But the bride, a diminutive figure in white, comes down the aisle with the St. Philip's choir boys singing. Professor Paul Bolin, organist, swings into Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." Dr. Jackson, who has a large practice here as well as in Chicago, stands beside the bride. The Rev. Father Hutchins Bishop, rector of the high Episcopal Church, recites the service—the ring is slipped from the white satin pillow borne by Verner Tandy Jr.—the last words are spoken, the ceremony at an end.

Neither rice nor shoes were thrown. Husky policemen made a path to the motors and off sped the bridal party to a reception at Villa Lewaro. There, where the happy couple greeted their friends, music came from a harp, an organ, a piano and a soloist.

It was further announced that Dr. and Mrs. Jackson plan a trip through the country, visiting friends, and will be at home, when the time comes, at 4805 Calumet avenue, Chicago.

Dr. Jackson's father made a fortune by specializing in Chicago real estate.

Former Washerwoman in St. Louis.
Mrs. Walker was a washerwoman in St. Louis until about 1905. Her hair straightener formula came to her in a dream, after a prayer for aid, she asserted, and she went to Denver, where she started manufacturing the preparation on a capital of $1.50. Later she built a laboratory in Indianapolis. Her estate, valued at more than $1,000,000, she left mainly to her only daughter, although many bequests were made to charities.

Lynching of 3 Moros Reported.
By the Associated Press.
MANILA, Nov. 27.—Insular officials were advised by telegram today that three Moros had just been lynched by natives at Brooke's Point, island of Palawan. It was stated that the lynching was the result of rumors that the Moros were planning a massacre.

Says His Prescription Powerful Influence of

RHEUMATISM

Has Also Proven Remarkable Successful in Severe Cases of Rheumatic Neuritis

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of needless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who took it, with what might be called marvellous success. After years of urging he decided to list sufferers everywhere known about this discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allen's with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. All druggists can supply you.

Man Shot to Death After Quarrel
By the Associated Press.
POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Nov. 27.—Following a quarrel over the occupancy of a house, John Carter, 50 years old, a timber worker, was shot to death here yesterday. William Robinson, a farmer, was arrested with the charge of slaying Carter. The latter, it was said, had leased the house in which Robinson lives and was said to have given Robinson notice to move.

The Kiwanis Club Minstrels played a return engagement at Station KSD last night. About a year ago this organization gave a minstrel show which was heard and appreciated all over the United States. Requests have come in for another performance by the minstrels. Many listeners, Kiwanians and others, who had seen the advance program, listened in for the St. Louis Kiwanis Club last night, and during the performance the telephone in the radio reception room carried in compliments for the entertainers.

The group last night consisted of 25 members of the St. Louis Kiwanis Club. John H. Flachmann was interlocutor. The end men were: Tambora, Harry Whitte and George Manewal; bones, John C. Fleck and Frank Swann. Fine voices, a well-trained chorus and clear, clean tests were the features of the program.

Some of the specialties that were particularly interesting were "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses" and "Carolina in the Morning," sung by Edwin C. Phillips. "Roses of Picardy," sung by Waldo H. Finke, and a parody in which members of the minstrels were lampooned in a humorous way.

In the second part the quartet and soloists gave the features. Members of the quartet were William S. Jones, Waldo E. Finke, Victor R. Appel and Edwin C. Phillips. George J. Manewal presented several banjo numbers. Flachmann gave his Bert Williams imitations.

Another feature was a "blues" number, in which the new secretary of the club, Henry La Cosait, was the singer, giving a special arrangement of "Red-headed Gal" and "Beale Street Blues." The program was the longest given at a midnight concert this season at Station KSD, lasting almost two hours, but was full of fun from start to finish.

Another studio program will be given this evening, the artists being Mrs. Frank H. Howard, soprano; Miss Sylvia Walden, violinist, and Mrs. Louis Maginnis, pianist. This will be followed by the midnight Tuesday dance program broadcast direct from the Hotel Jefferson.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless
If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

During 1922 the Post-Dispatch printed 74,131 Male Help "Wants" 12,798 more than the next nearest St. Louis newspaper and more than six times as many as the two other evening newspapers combined.

CEREMONY AT EDEN COLLEGE
Ground to Be Broken for New Buildings Thanksgiving Day.
Ground-breaking ceremonies preliminary to the erection of the proposed $750,000 group of buildings for Eden College, Evangelical denominational school, at Lockwood and Bompert avenues, Webster Groves, will be held at 3 p. m. Thanksgiving day. The Rev. S. Kruse, chairman of the Board of Control, will be in charge. Speakers will include the school's president, Rev. Dr. Samuel D. Press; the president of the Evangelical synod, Dr. J. E. Altzer, and the Mayor. The group will include an administration building, two dormitories, a mess hall, a gymnasium and dwellings for instructors. All are expected to be ready for use by the fall school opening next year.

PUSHES VICTIM'S HANDS UP
Robber Not at a Loss When He Holds Up a Deaf Man.
A man poked a revolver into the ribs of George C. Skaggs of 3989 Russell boulevard, near his home last night, uttering a command. Skaggs stood still. He is deaf, so wished to avoid making a wrong movement.

The robber, puzzled, repeated the command. Skaggs didn't move. Then the robber pushed Skaggs' arms up to the accepted position for helpup victims and proceeded to go through his pockets. Police were told he took a watch, chain and locket and a lodge membership card.

CONDEMNATION EXTENSION
Aldermen Want Further Time in Case of Free Bridge Approach.
A resolution requesting St. Louis Congressmen and Senators Reed and Spencer to put through Congress measures extending for three years the city's power to condemn Municipal Bridge approach property in Illinois was passed yesterday by the Board of Aldermen. Alderman Wander introduced the resolution.

The city's condemnation rights, granted under the Federal act authorizing construction of the Municipal Bridge, expires Feb. 1, 1924, unless extended. The City Counselor's office is now examining titles of property expected to be affected by the northeast approach ordinance, passed over Mayor Kiel's veto and now effective.

BOLL WEEVIL ERADICATOR

Argentine Ant Effective, Says Mississippi Planter.
By the Associated Press.
CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss., Nov. 27.—A cotton boll weevil eradicator has been found in the Argentine ant, according to Mance

Dees, a planter, residing near here, who for some time has been experimenting with ways and means of combating the pests. Dees planted two patches of cotton on the same farm this year. One of them is on ground infested with the ant, the other on ground free of it. He has brought to Crystal Springs, and exhibited to cotton men a stalk from each patch. That from the ground infested with the ants contained 149 bolls of cotton, matured to the top of the stalk, while the stalk from the other patch, infested with the weevil, contained only shriveled squares and small, undeveloped bolls.

YOUTH WHO DEMONSTRATED CUT-OUT FOR OFFICER IS FINED

"My First and Last Offense," He Tells Police Captain Gerk.

Police Captain Gerk, in charge of the Traffic Bureau, was driving out Gravois avenue last Sunday when an automobile roared past with cut-out wide open. He pursued for seven blocks to Michigan avenue, where he signaled a young man at the wheel to stop.

"That's a good car, isn't it?" he remarked.

"Pretty fair," said the youth, complacently.

"What kind of a cut-out have you got?"

"Ain't that a beauty!" The young man had not seen Capt. Gerk's uniform under a cravenette. The Captain, expressing a doubt that there was any beauty in the cut-out for anybody but the driver, pulled out a police court summons.

Today the young man, who was Fred Wegener, 19, of 2141 Nebraska avenue, paid $3 costs in police court, pleading first offense.

"You mean the first time you got caught," interjected Capt. Gerk.

"Well, it's the last offense, anyway," Wegener said. "Dad took the cut-out off yesterday."

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEMA record of growth

The volume of freight transportation now being performed by the Southern Railway System is three times what it was twenty years ago.

But this work is being done with an increase in freight locomotive mileage of only 34%; and for every ton of coal burned in the fireboxes we are producing 26% more ton-miles. One freight train now does more work than two did twenty years ago.

This remarkable gain in efficiency has been effected by the investment of many millions of new capital in more powerful locomotives and larger freight cars; in the reduction of curves and grades; and in the enlargement of track and terminal facilities.

The savings thus made have gone to the South—in higher wages for our employees; in higher prices paid to Southern producers for steel, lumber, coal and other railroad materials (reflected in higher wages in these industries); in higher taxes to Southern municipalities; in better transportation service for the South; and in freight and passenger rates that have not been advanced commensurately with the advance in the cost of living.

We have met the great rise in prices by investing new capital in productive improvements that have increased operating efficiency.

Southern Railway System last year spent in the South $20,000,000 more than it received from the South.

ACCEPTS LABOR BOARD PLACE

Morrow, Retiring Governor of Kentucky, to Succeed Barton.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Announcement is made at the White House that Edwin P. Morrow, who will retire as Governor of Kentucky next month, has accepted appointment by President Coolidge as a member of the Railroad Labor Board, succeeding R. M. Barton.
He will serve as a member of the public group.

Appointment of Gov. Morrow to the board was urged last spring when a vacancy occurred, and he was offered the place, but it is understood, he asked to be allowed to serve out his term as Governor. Barton was then given a recess appointment by President Harding to the board. It was said, until Morrow could take over the duties.

When told of a statement in Chicago last night by Barton, that he had not resigned, White House officials explained that it was the understanding at the White House that Barton accepted the appointment to serve only until Morrow completed his term as Governor.
It was pointed out also that Barton had been serving under a recess appointment, and that his nomination or that of another person must be submitted to the Senate.

LORD BEAVERBROOK DEFIANT

Replies to Labor's Charges of Engineering Liberal-Tory Combine.
Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
Copyright, 1932, by the Press and Publishing Cos., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.
LONDON, Nov. 27.—Lord Beaverbrook, owner of the Daily Express, who, with Lord Rothermere, owner of the Northcliffe press, is accused by the Labor organ, the Daily Herald, of engineering Liberal-Tory combination against labor, replies in today's Express.
He says the Daily Herald represents the extreme left of Labor and if my critics imagine I can be forced to abandon the imperial cause by threats from a combination of turncoats and semi-communists they make a great mistake. He had attacked the discarded Morning Post and Lord Astor's Sunday Observer as "turn-coats" for abandoning the tariff issue.

Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly to get permanent relief from constipation!

Freedom from constipation, mild or chronic, can be surely looked for if you will eat Kellogg's Bran every day! Two tablespoonfuls are sufficient; for severe cases with each meal.
Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food awaiting a chance to bring back your health. Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that.
Being cooked and krumbled, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor. It should not be confused with common bran which is un-palatable and hard to eat. Kellogg's Bran adds greatly to the pleasure of eating other hot or cold cereals. A popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran is to cook it with hot cereals. In preparation, add two tablespoonfuls of Bran for each person, mixing it with the cereal to be cooked.
Kellogg's Bran is especially delicious in raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, macarons, etc. Recipes appear on each package.
Realize what Kellogg's Bran is doing for constipation sufferers all over the nation, then just think what it can do for you and yours. The horrors to come should guide you to eat Bran regularly, to serve it in some form each day.
You can drive constipation out of your family with Kellogg's Bran—and remove the cause of 90% of human illness! First-class hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant. All grocers.

Although the Champion Bantam May Not Feather His Nest, He Always Has Something to Crow About

Lynch, Burman and Kaiser Hope To Regain Prestige in Fights Tonight; Butch a Hot Favorite

Of Ten Principals in Coliseum Bouts One Is a Champion, Another Was Champion for a Day, and Four Have Reasonable Hopes of Winning Titles.

By John E. Wray,
Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Several young men of great pugilistic renown, whose effluence has been somewhat dimmed by other causes than their own remissness, will feature the "comeback" ring card at the Coliseum tonight, one James C. Mullen of Chicago furnishing the capital and promotion energy to assemble the group.

Of a program involving 16 principals, of weights varying from bantam to junior lightweight, six of the performers are listed as men who either have held some claim to a title in the recent past or who hope to gain one in the very near future.

Of the men who have tasted honors and either lost them or had doubts cast upon them, we may mention Joe Lynch, who today is bantam champion in 47 states and merely a pretender in the forty-eighth, New York; Joe Burman, a champion for a day in the bantam division, and Peewee Kaiser, former St. Louis champion, but now in the doldrums because of an ill-fated match that sent him against the fist of Johnny Curtin.

Of the champions "in posse" boys who look into the future with expectant gaze, we may mention Irish Johnny Curtin, the little fighting blue from New York, whose cold blue eye will look into the fiery eyes of Joe Lynch in a title match some day, "Irish" hopes, and Andy Chaney, who has a reasonable right to expect a fight for either the featherweight or the junior lightweight crowns.

Worth $100,000 in New York.

That's an array of talent for which Ted Rickard would have to dig deep and which he probably would divide into at least two programs. These matches, at 15 rounds to a decision held in Madison Square Garden, would undoubtedly represent a $100,000 paid admission gate—that is, if Joe Lynch did some calculating.

Champion Joe Lynch will be boxing his second fight of a series of four or five, designed to put him on edge for his title fight with Abe Goldstein. The one blot on Joe's record consists of a failure to keep an engagement to fight Joe Burman in New York. For that failure he was deposited, within the borders of the Empire State, and Joe Burman elevated to the throne, for a day. Meeting Abe Goldstein unexpectedly 14 hours later Burman, hurriedly trying to make weight after breaking training, lost the bout to Goldstein. Hence Lynch is now "beating back" to a clear title, via the Goldstein route.

In picking Moore as an opponent, Lynch did some calculating. Moore has everything but a knockout punch. He is a wonderfully fast clever man calculated to speed up Lynch to title glory. He may outpoint Lynch—he has done it—but it being a no-decision bout Joe can neither lose his title or get seriously hurt. On the other hand, they may carry Moore to his corner, for Lynch can hit and will not lose tonight to end Moore's title claims for all time.

Burman Must "Come Back"
Burman, who is rapidly getting out of the 115-pound class will be at his best against Johnny Curtin because the weight is right. This bout will probably prove the last of the card as both men are great and willing millers and neither can afford to allow the other to eliminate him decisively. Rather, either can gain great renown by beating the other and be in a position to demand a match of Lynch. Burman, too, must regain the prestige he lost.

Europeans Want To See Dempsey

Jack Likely to Display His Stuff When He Goes Abroad This Winter.

By Fair Play.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—It would not be surprising were Jack Dempsey to engage in a serious bout when he goes abroad later this winter. There is a great desire in England and in France to see the champion in action, and the fans would pay good money to see him go even against an opponent who figures as more or less of a setup. As an indication of Kearns' intentions concerning Dempsey who in Europe it is interesting to note that Teddy Hayes, Jack's former trainer, has signed a contract to resume work with the titleholder.

No one seems to know just why Hayes and Dempsey parted company in the months preceding the Collins battle. But it was understood that no feeling was at the bottom of it. Jerry the Greek did very well with Dempsey out West and at Saratoga.

Peewee Villa, the flyweight champion, will run no risk of losing his title when he meets Carl Tremaine of Cleveland on Thursday night at the Madison Square Garden. The bout will single out 115 pounds. But while his title is safe one may not be so sure about Pancho's swarthy dome. This Tremaine guy is a brawler who can rise to great heights. Some day, many think, he will be the bantam king.

WIMBLEDON LIKELY TO ADOPT THE SEEDED DRAW

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Seeded draws probably will be made for all future lawn tennis championships tournaments at Wimbledon. This system of scattering star players through the various sections of the draw to prevent any top-notchers from being put out of the tournament by another in the early rounds has been approved by the council of the Lawn Tennis Association.

Last summer the best two players in the championship were conceded by everyone to be the Americans, William M. Johnston and Vincent Richards. It was hoped they might meet in the final. But by the luck of the blind draw they were put in the same half and Johnston eliminated Richards in the third round.

ing his title when he meets Carl Tremaine of Cleveland on Thursday night at the Madison Square Garden. The bout will single out 115 pounds. But while his title is safe one may not be so sure about Pancho's swarthy dome. This Tremaine guy is a brawler who can rise to great heights. Some day, many think, he will be the bantam king.

The Men of having Mike McTigue and Joe Beckett meet in Dublin on March 17 is a good one for McTigue. Any time he can get an Englishman or a negro in the squared circle in Ireland on the day of the patron saint he is in luck. He ought to be an interesting battle—a test whether a Charlotte Ruse can hurt a cream puff.

Five Clubs Bid for This Brownie

URBAN SHOCKER.

For whose services every club but Detroit and Chicago are reported to have made offers.

Five A. L. Clubs Bid for Shocker; Ehmke Offered

Bob Quinn and Miller Huggins Among the Managers Who Want Browns' Ace.

Urban Shocker, called the best pitcher in the American League, is the center of an excited scramble of managers and managers who believe that his present action for release from the Browns' club opens the gateway for a trade.

The world's champion New York Yankees have approached Bill Friel, business manager of the Browns, on several occasions but the offer was never considered sufficient to interest the Browns. The Philadelphia Athletics have also made an offer of a pitcher and third baseman. It is understood, but the Browns again turned a deaf ear.

Bob Quinn, who originally obtained Shocker from the Yankees, has sought the hurler for the Boston Red Sox, the club of which Quinn is now president. Quinn is understood to have offered Howard Ehmke, his star pitcher, and Joe Harris, an outfielder and first baseman. This offer also failed to interest the Browns materially. Only Two Clubs Have Not Bid.

The exact proposition which the New York team made for Shocker is not known but it is understood that the Browns' management made it plain that the offer from the champions would have to be far better than that of any other club before St. Louis would consider it.

The reason is obvious. The Browns, a second place club if Shocker returns to first base, would not be known but it is understood that the Browns' management made it plain that the offer from the champions would have to be far better than that of any other club before St. Louis would consider it.

Yanks Offer $25,000.

The Yanks have refused to part with any regular players of merit. It is understood that they will break up their championship combination which, outside of the pitching and catching department, consists of four young men.

Shocker is 25 years old. But he is a pitcher who does not exhaust himself physically with his work. He may be another "Baby Adams" and it is certain that he has many more good years left.

Shocker's present case grew out of the club's refusal to allow him to accompany him on the team's final trip East. He refused to go with the team, and the order was withdrawn and he was not. Subsequently, Shocker offered, in a letter to Commissioner Landis, to be released from his contract, and the club has agreed to a trade if he receives full value in return.

Mike McTigue to Meet Joe Beckett in Dublin

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Mike McTigue, announced last night that his next fight would be in Dublin on the night of March 17, when he meets Joe Beckett, the Tumble Tom of the prize ring.

Mike further added that he would not fight here until next summer, which of course spikes any idea that he is going to fight the winner of the Greb and Tunney bout in January.

Mike says the bout with Beckett is to be 25 rounds, and that it will be promoted by the same men who brought Mike and Shik together.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The year 1923 in intercollegiate athletics will go down in history with the Blue of Yale as its predominant color.

From the indoor season that closed last winter throughout the spring period and winding up brightly this month, the year was marked by one of the most spectacular records that intercollegiate sport has ever known. Yale defeated all Eastern conference honors in six branches of sport. No other institution can boast a record so evenly distributed in all sports.

Intercollegiate championship or general recognition as time holding caliber has been gained by Yale arrays in swimming, polo, basketball, baseball and football. While the Blue also furnished in Dexter Cummings, the intercollegiate golf champion.

"Big Three" honors went to the Blue in basketball, swimming, polo, rowing, track and field. Yale defeated all Eastern conference honors in six branches of sport. No other institution can boast a record so evenly distributed in all sports.

The crowning glory of Yale's victorious march came with the triumph of its mighty gridiron machine over Harvard, giving the Blue its first "big three" championship since 1914 and closing an undefeated record of such impressive victories as to place Yale in the prime condition and "Josh" Dugdale, star end, has recovered from his injuries and is also in shape to start.

Coach Wimbler watched the Southerners trounce Louisiana University Saturday. He reports that Tulane has an outfit possibly as strong as Missouri. The team is heavy and has several fast men in the backfield who are deft in an open field. Halfback Brown, who played against the Pikers here two years ago, has developed into a star. Wimbler states, and will be a hard man to control.

Tulane scored a 20-0 victory against I. S. U. but Wimbler says all their points were scored in the first 15 minutes of play, and that after that they were completely out of their opponents. If the Pikers fight as hard as they did against Missouri, Coach Wimbler believes there is hope for a victory.

The Pikers are eager to win this final intercollegiate battle as a victory would give them an even break of four victories and four defeats for the season. Washington has defeated Tulane in their last two meetings.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 27.—Michigan's 1923 football schedule is now arranged. Coach Yost announced today. The statement was in answer to published reports that Michigan especially desired to meet the Wolverines next year.

Although reiterating his belief that four heavy games are enough for a team, Yost said he was attracted in his decision largely because of the disappointment that followed Michigan's defeat by the Wolverines during the 1922 season.

Michigan has games scheduled for next season with Iowa, Ohio State, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Yost said.

Great Record Set By Yale Athletes During the Year

Eastern Conference Honors Carried Off in Six Branches of Sport.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The year 1923 in intercollegiate athletics will go down in history with the Blue of Yale as its predominant color.

From the indoor season that closed last winter throughout the spring period and winding up brightly this month, the year was marked by one of the most spectacular records that intercollegiate sport has ever known. Yale defeated all Eastern conference honors in six branches of sport. No other institution can boast a record so evenly distributed in all sports.

Intercollegiate championship or general recognition as time holding caliber has been gained by Yale arrays in swimming, polo, basketball, baseball and football. While the Blue also furnished in Dexter Cummings, the intercollegiate golf champion.

Squad of 40 Men, Which Co rives Tomorrow—St. L develop Forward Passing At

By Frank

Coach Knute Rockne and his forty strong, will arrive in St. Louis tomorrow. His array of great backfield talent has been suffering from a rib injury which may take part in a portion of the game.

Notre Dame has worked out with the Gonzaga eleven from the Pacific coast, for the past two days and reports from South Bend indicate that the Indiana tricksters are in prime shape. An injury here or there does not cause an unshakable in the Rockne camp. There is an excess of material for every position and the "rele strength is but little removed from the regular players.

Outside of the numerical advantage there is no great difference between the Bulldogs and the South Bend eleven when mere power is considered. The Bulldogs will weigh up equally if it is in excess of the visitors. This is due largely to the fact that several members of the St. Louis squad are of the bulky but not rangy type. The Notre Dame weight is more evenly balanced and every member of the eleven is regarded as a fast man. Several of the Notre players are too slow to come out of the line and form interference for a runner, a scheme of protection which has been greatly responsible for Notre Dame's success during the past few years.

The Mile in Mighty. The Notre Dame players as a team give the impression of being small men. But the perfect physical development of the men has eliminated all fat from their frames and has left bone and muscle. A combination which weighs heavily and tears things to pieces on a football field.

Despite the taunts of rivals and the dire predictions of a crushing defeat, Head Coach Dan Sayers and Stadenmacher are laboring with the battered Bullfinch battalions which will oppose the "Speed Machine" in the "Mile in Mighty."

BANK ROBBERS MAKE POLICEMAN DRIVE AUTO

Officer Who Ambushed Three Holdup Men Is Himself Disarmed by Fourth.

By the Associated Press.

JOPLIN, Mo., Nov. 27.—Four men who yesterday robbed the Bank of Ashbury at Ashbury, Mo., of approximately $1200 fought with citizens and later kidnapped a Joplin motor cycle patrolman and compelled him to drive a rooming house car to the district, finally leaving him stranded, are still at large.

Two automobile loads of policemen left here this morning to resume the search, which continued until darkness last night. An effort will be made to pick up the trail where the robbers dumped the motor cycle patrolman out of their automobile.

The patrolman, Clarence Allison, came upon the men near Crestline, Kan., and after exchanging shots with them followed them across a field and into a wood. He got in front of them and three of the robbers came up to force him to surrender. He was marching them from the wood when the fourth, who had been concealed, suddenly stepped up behind Allison and compelled him to drop his revolver. Then the four returned to the motor car they had abandoned and forced Allison to take the steering wheel. Allison drove them through the main streets of Galena, Baxter Springs and Commerce, Ok. They divided the loot during the trip, according to the patrolman.

Allison was put out at Devil's Promenade, a pleasure resort west of Baxter Springs. He met several Joplin policemen a short time later and they made an unsuccessful search for the robbers.

Apparently none of the robbers was wounded in the fight with citizens immediately after the robbery, as was at first believed. It was reported that two of the men appeared to be wounded after a struggle and others opened fire on them. The citizens followed the highwaymen a short distance from Ashbury, got sight of them twice and opened fire. Each time two of the men got on the running board of their car and returned the fire.

10 PERSONS ASSESSED $184 UNDER STATE GAME LAWS

Justices of Peace at Washington and Union impose fines on Pleas of 'Guilty.'

Fines and costs aggregating $184.50 were assessed against 10 persons who pleaded guilty of violating State game laws before Justices of the Peace at Washington and Union, Mo., yesterday under complaints filed by William J. Wiemeyer, Deputy State Game and Fish Commissioner.

Three of the defendants were charged with possession of hides of fur-bearing animals. The fur season does not open until Saturday and closes Jan. 31, 1924. The seven others were charged with hunting without licenses. All arrests were made by Wiemeyer yesterday and Sunday.

Those fined $18.45 each before Justice Peitz of Washington were: John W. Strassmann of Washington, Andrew E. Fille of Washington, John D. Shipley of Washington, Edward W. Tree of Washington, Harland and Emmett Schweiguth and Joseph Roeder, 1491 Wright street, St. Louis.

Fines and costs of $18.45 were imposed by Justice Bredt of Union against the following, upon their pleas of guilty of hunting without licenses: E. A. and Robert Tucker, 19 Beverly place, St. Louis; and Howard F. Fitzwilliam, 2842 Enright avenue.

Draws Money From Another's Savings

The police are seeking a woman who visited the Mercantile Trust Co. Nov. 12 and drew $119 out of the savings account of Mrs. Elizabeth Mulligan of 1492A Market street. Mrs. Mulligan reported she missed her savings book yesterday and went to the bank to give notice. She then learned of the visit of the woman. The account had been in Mrs. Mulligan's maiden name and the check when cashed had been signed with that name, a forgery.

DIVORCES McADOO'S ELDEST SON

The former Mrs. Francis Huger McAdoo obtains a degree of separation from the son of William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury. She is a self sister of Mrs. Raymond T. Baker, formerly Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, and when she and McAdoo were married, President and Mrs. Wilson were among the notables who attended the wedding. The elder McAdoo strove vainly to reconcile the young couple.

Turning the Porch Parlor for the Winter.

THE porch has ceased to be merely a summer retreat. It is now a place where the winter sun can be enjoyed. The porch can be turned into a parlor by the use of a few simple devices. The first thing to do is to remove the summer furniture and replace it with winter furniture. This can be done by using a few simple devices. The first thing to do is to remove the summer furniture and replace it with winter furniture. This can be done by using a few simple devices.

Many who own sun parlors create a sort of porch use them for breakfast rooms. This means having electric plugs placed so that the cushions and screens may be drawn across the shades. The tea wagon with all needed foods back and forth. In some places temporary cupboards are built against the house for porch dishes and appetizers. These are of course convenient and make the porch easier.

Window boxes that have been fitted inside the shades add a decorative touch when plants, hardy, colorful plants, are used. The effect may be achieved by using a few simple devices.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

Thanksgiving.

ACH land has feasts and festivals when folks forget their troubles and, singing merry noddies, their hearts grow light as bubbles. Some deck their streets with lanterns bright, some dance with song and flowers, with gay processions, torches light, some frolic through the hours. The chery blossoms in Japan bring in a time of gladness, a time when prince and artisan are stirred by springtime madness. To foreign lands, their foreign ways of finding joy in living; but here at home our day of days will always be Thanksgiving. Of all the feasts men celebrate as years go swiftly whirling, there's none in any clime or state brings more of honest feeling. Look out across this whirling earth, scan all its gladdest places for such a day of peace and mirth, such gay and loving faces! The old man, withered, gray and bent; the baby, pink, beguiling, are both united in content, both thankful souls and smiling. Though it may be the feast that's spread lacks Oriental splendor, each heart would show (could it be read) kind thoughts and visions tender. And those about the festive board, though they depart with sorrow, have joy enough in memory stored to last through many a morrow. For this brief space of peace and rest brings every fond hope nearer, and counting all the ways they're best makes dear hearts seem still dearer. The season marks the year's decline, but there's new bliss in living when eyes a-brim with love look upon us at Thanksgiving.

Children and Their Food

Waldorf-Astoria Chef Tells What Is Best for Youngsters to Eat.

"OSCAR," otherwise Oscar Tschirky, or "Mr. Oscar" of the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, probably knows more about food and cooking, menus and diets, and their relations to appetites and dispositions, than any other man in the world. During his connection of more than 30 years with the famous eastern hotel, he has planned banquets which have delighted Presidents and Kings, evolved gastronomic masterpieces which have made Princes and diplomats forget that they had any business in life other than to dine, invented new and toothsome ways of serving commonplace foods which are mentioned with reverence by the lesser lights of cookdom, and written several information books for the American housewife.

So when a Post-Dispatch representative desired a series of food combinations, suitable for children, Mr. Oscar was asked about it. "What is a good diet for children from three to six?" mused Oscar. "For children of normal digestion, or even with slight nutritional disorders there are many good foods whose combinations won't work havoc with tiny stomachs."

Should Have Fruit Juice.
"For breakfast, after the sixth year," Mr. Oscar proceeded, "the child may be given a choice of apples, raw, baked or stewed; prunes, grapes, stewed figs, pears, oranges, peaches, grapefruit and berries, cooked or fresh."

"Cereals may include cream of wheat, farina, rice, shredded wheat, puffed rice, hominy, wheatena and oatmeal. Here the two-hour cooking rule prevails, too. Peanut butter, strained honey, marmalade, jam or jelly will add greatly to the palatability of whole wheat or white bread, graham toast, zwieback, corn bread, crusts of rolls or crackers. Bread for children of 6 and over must also be stale, but it may be spread liberally with fresh butter."

"Eggs may be served with crisp, fat bacon. They may be soft-boiled, poached, scrambled or made into a fluffy omelet. Beverages should consist of milk, cocoa and buttermilk. Older Ones May Have Meat."

"For these older children luncheon and dinner may include beef broth, chicken broth, oyster or mutton broth, pea soup, vegetable soup, tomato soup or cream of celery soup. They may eat any kind of boiled or broiled fish. Meat is no longer 'verboten' and they may have their choice of beefsteak, roast beef, roast mutton, roast lamb, lamb chops, broiled or roasted chicken or quail. I would include peas, carrots, spinach, celery, string beans, stewed tomatoes, baked potatoes, baked sweet potatoes, cauliflower, young lima beans and young onions in the list of suitable vegetables. They may also have spaghetti or macaroni."

"Salads as appetizing in appearance as any grown-up could desire, can be made for juniors from romaine, lettuce hearts, celery hearts, cold slaw or fruits. The child of 6 may even eat a bit of Swiss cream salad, Port du Salut or American cheese. If dessert they may have fruit included in the breakfast list, custard, ice cream, rice pudding, tapioca pudding or prune soufflé. Buttermilk, cocoa and chocolate compose the beverage list. Of course, unhurried eating, thorough mastication, a minimum of sugar, sweets and rich pastries, plenty of water between meals, the liberal use of well ripened fruit, green vegetables, fresh butter and milk are all important factors which make for health in childhood and later life," finished Oscar. "There is plenty in the list of things I have mentioned without cucumbers, pickles, coffee, tea or pie."

Baked Chicken.
This is economical, as an old hen may be used and baked very tender. Roll pieces of chicken in flour, season with salt and pepper, lay in a roaster and cover with milk. Bake about two hours, according to age of chicken. (Potatoes may be placed in same pan and baked at same time or boiled separately and mashed.) The front chamber is filled with

Sweet Memories of Past Thanksgivings

LET your memory carry you back a few years to the quaint old homestead gladdened with the shouts of husky, joyous youngsters. It's Thanksgiving season. Grandmother's doing the holiday bakings as she vainly tries to keep back the hoard of healthy appetites that have caught the first fragrant whiff of the good things as they come from the huge oven. Doughnuts served with cider, pumpkin pies, fruit cakes, tarts, ginger cookies—little wonder the folks couldn't wait to sample them!

Royal Patent Flour produces just as tasteful bakings today as it did in Grandmother's day. For sixty years it has been the choice of discriminating households that want the best things to eat—tempting delicacies that please any season, any time. Be sure to get Royal Patent for your holiday bakings.

Yourself

By J. J. MUNDY.

HOW often do you earnestly and honestly help the other fellow?

It may be a man in your own department who needs your advice. Give it. A word from you, a bit of encouragement, a little of passing along the "know how" might put him in line for promotion.

Your suggestions might get him a higher wage; why don't you suggest? It may be that he does not know how to spend his leisure time. Your more mature viewpoint understands the value of the right kind of reading, study or association in order to mount the ladder of "getting somewhere."

Why are you so selfish as to withhold your ideas and experience? You do not know how he would take it—how he would feel about having anyone suggest that he could be improved?

Better take the chance of giving offense rather than lose the opportunity of helping some sensitive, timid person to get a firm foothold on the rounds of the ladder. There are many persons who do get a hold on certain rounds of the ladder, but they are afraid to let go when the time comes for the next step. A little help from you would accomplish it for this individual, and each successive step is easier than the last. (Copyright, 1923.)

"I know why too. It's because you use Enterprise Flour."

"I heard today that the hard wheat crop is 120 million bushels smaller than last year's. There's not enough strong wheat to go around. The makers of Enterprise, though, are getting the same very best grade as always by paying the necessary premium and exerting special effort."

"Others may have more baking failures than usual this fall, but I'll bet you won't. Stick to Enterprise."

ROYAL S. COPELAND M.D. YOUR HEALTH UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM NEW YORK

100th COMMISSIONER OF HEALTH, NEW YORK CITY

WHAT would you do if a member of your family as the result of a fall or other accident were to cut the eyeball seriously? The eyeball is made up of a tough outer covering, which gives form to the eye when it is filled with fluid, as it normally is. In a way the outer envelope is not unlike a football or a basketball. If the air is permitted to leak out, the ball becomes soft and flaccid. If all the air escapes the leather falls in, leaving a shapeless mass.

The outer covering of the eyeball is mostly sclera, as the posterior five-sixths of the envelope is called. What we speak of as the "white of the eye" is that portion of the sclera, which is not hidden from view by the lids, or by the other tissues immediately surrounding the eyeball.

The very front of the eyeball, the anterior one-sixth of the envelope, is a perfectly transparent structure, forming a window through which the deeper parts of the eye can be seen. This portion of the outer covering of the eyeball is called the cornea. It is like the crystal of a watch, protecting the hands and face but not concealing them.

The interior of the eye contains fluids which fill the two chambers. I haven't told you about these chambers, but they are there, chiefly made up of a fluid called aqueous humor. The aqueous humor is not in the middle but is nearer the front of the eye. This arrangement makes the front or anterior chamber much smaller than the rear or posterior chamber.

The cornea may be seen through the transparent cornea. It is the beautifully colored iris which gives the distinctive hue to the individual eye. This iris, which is called the iris, is not an unbroken membrane. On the contrary there is a hole in the middle, known as the pupil.

The pupil looks like a round black patch painted on the surface of the iris. Like the pupil of the cat, which dilates and contracts with the light, the pupil of the human eye varies in size. At times it may be like the head of a pin. Other moments it may be widely dilated, making a blue or gray eye appear almost black.

Right back of the pupil, behind the iris, is the crystalline lens of the eye. This focuses the light coming in and projects the images of things looked at, so that their form and detail may be seen. The front chamber is filled with

It may open both chambers. The gush of the aqueous may carry with the current the thin and delicate curtain, the iris. It may project into or pouch out beyond the surface of the eyeball. If it is so deep as to open the posterior chamber, the retina and choroid, other eye structures, may be pushed into the wound.

I have told you all these things to make it clear to you why you should not tamper with a damaged eye. Any lack of skill will tear these delicate structures, which may be replaced undamaged by an experienced oculist. Also your efforts may carry pus-producing germs into the wound and these make certain the destruction of sight.

In case of injury have the victim close his eye. Cover the lids with a small folded handkerchief. Tie this in place with a larger handkerchief bound around the head. Then go immediately to the oculist or your family doctor.

Hope is a pleasant acquaintance, but an unsafe friend. Hope is not the man for your banker, but he may do very well for a traveling companion.

The Man on the Sandbox

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?

When driving an over-stuffed cushioned machine, Don't lose all your sense of perspective; Don't burn up the road and your good gasoline in trying to gain your objective. Start five minutes and sooner and cut down the speed. And you will have all of the time that you need.

The drivers who drive with particular pains are causing no trouble or worry; What profits a man if a minute he gains and murders a child in his hurry. This warning applies to pedestrians, too. So stop, look and listen, whatever you do.

WHY NOT?

In order to slow up the speed demons it may become necessary to cut down the power content of gasoline until it is non-auto-intoxicating.

FAVORITE STORIES

By Irvin S. Cobb.

A BATCH OUT OF THE DEEP WOODS.

GOOD many of the stories which professional guides tell by the camp fire at night are aimed at the green sportsmen they have served.

A New Brunswick guide who took me moose hunting swore that the following thing really happened. He said an amateur hunter strayed away from camp and was lost for the better part of two days. On the second afternoon a search party found him. After the rescued one had been fed and comforted the chief guide said to him:

"I see you have a compass. Didn't you know how to use it?" "Certainly I knew how to use it," said the novice, "but the blamed thing was no good—it just kept pointing in one direction all the time. If only it had pointed toward camp once in a while I could have found my way back easy enough."

In New York State another guide told me that two Swedes who worked in a factory a few miles away came to the town where he lived and borrowed from him a dozen wooden duck decoys, saying they meant to go shooting on a nearby river where, in season, wild fowl were fairly abundant. They had one gun between them, and from the way it was handled and from other things, he made up his mind that the pair had not had a great deal of experience at hunting.

Late in the afternoon he decided to see how the greenhorns were faring. He swore to me that when he reached the river he saw one of the Swedes standing bolt upright in full view at the water's edge, holding his gun ready and with a vigilant eye on the flocks of mallard that scurried past at a distance, while his companion, in hip boots, was splashing up and down in the shallows dragging behind him the decoys tied together by strings about their necks.

But at least once in my sojourns in the woods I found a guide who was willing to poke fun at his own profession. "I've got a friend over here on Long Lake who followed guiding for going on 20 years," he said. "His name was Faulkner—Gene Faulkner. But finally he got tired of the game and he took and opened up a grocery store in the village. He did pretty well, too, until one night when he was coming home late in a wagon and an automobile ran into him and smashed him up. They picked him up with his skull cracked wide open and toted him off to the doctors. They all thought he was as good as dead, but that doctor was a mighty smart chap and he saved Gene's life. The only trouble was that before he could get to work on Gene party near all of Gene's brains had leaked out through those cracks in his head. Yes, sir, he didn't have a brain left to his name."

"Well, after Gene came to, it was up to the doctor to break the news to him. 'Gene,' he says, 'you're going to live. You had a close call but in a little while you'll be as good as you ever was—that is, physically.' But, Gene, it's my painful duty to tell you that you'll never be able to run a grocery store again."

"Why not?" says Gene.

"Because," says the doctor, "running a grocery store calls for keeping books and the likes of that and keeping books calls for brains. And Gene, you haven't got any brains left to speak of."

"Doc," says Gene, "is that the truth?"

"Gene," says Doc, "that's the truth."

"Well," says Gene, "it don't make much difference one way or the other—I was figuring on going back to guiding again, anyhow."

MATTHES FLEES AFTER INTERNAL COUP AMONG RHINELAND SEPARATISTS

By the Associated Press. BRUSSELS, Nov. 26.

THE Provisional Government of the Rhineland Republic has been dissolved by Joseph Matthes at Coblenz, following an internal military coup. It was learned here today from Matthes himself, who fled while the military separatist dictatorship was being set up. Most of the members of the old Provisional Government were held a short time under a state of arrest, but all except those who went over to the new dictatorship were later released.

By the Associated Press. BRUSSELS, Nov. 26.—The Belgian Government, it is learned in official quarters, soon will raise its friendly conversations with France on the question of a partial withdrawal of the forces in the Ruhr.

Now that active and passive resistance is considered ended, the Belgians hope to bring back 5000 of their troops from the Ruhr by Christmas. The question will be discussed with the Paris Government as soon as the Ruhr situation is stabilized. K. Jaspars, the Belgian Foreign Minister, in a recent speech in the chamber recalled the fact that France and Belgium were pledged to leave the Ruhr proportionately as the Germans fulfilled their reparations obligations. M. Jaspars said that neither would fail in their promise. He reiterated that Brussels and Paris were acting in complete agreement and there was no question of separate action by Belgium for a reduction of her troops.

He believed it certain that France would take the same view. Nevertheless, the Belgian Cabinet, if necessary, would exert pressure to obtain a partial withdrawal of troops, if conditions in the Ruhr continue to improve.

Curzon to Send New Reparations Note to Poincare.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Premier Baldwin interrupted his election tour to return to London for two hours yesterday and confer with Foreign Secretary Curzon about the Ruhr and reparations dispute with France.

Joint committees of treasury and foreign office experts had two sessions and today will resume efforts to strengthen the British case. It is hoped an agreed British policy will be reached today when Lord Curzon will send a prompt, and indications are, extremely strong note to Premier Poincare.

Legality of the Ruhr occupation, considered in relation to Franco-Belgian efforts to take costs of this occupation out of German payments, is the center of the controversy.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 26.—England's relationship with France on the reparations issue will be tested in a severe test on Friday when Mr. John Bradbury presents his Government's views on the Duesseidort agreement and the intention of France and Belgium to retain part of the Ruhr payments and deliveries for their own occupational charges.

British political observers hold that the Duesseidort agreement, which was signed between the Franco-Belgian authorities and the German industrialists, means something more than reparations payments and deliveries. They see in it a move toward the economic separation of the Ruhr and Rhineland from the rest of Germany, with those two areas having a relationship to the Central Government something like an American State does to the Washington Government. These observers declare that the French, realizing that political separation has failed, are concentrating on the industrial separation.
